Haiti Port Razed As Storm Kills 80

LES CAYES, Haiti (AP)—Hurricane Cleo destroyed or damaged nearly every building in this port city of 20,000, killed 80 persons and left the population helpless, bewildered and with little food.

The government reported Thursday that 44 other persons were known to have died in the surrounding countryside, bringing to 124 the official death toll on Haiti from the devastating storm that struck Monday.

As for the injured, apparently no one attempted an official count.

"There are many, many, perhaps hundreds," said Mr. Andrew Berraud, head of the Les Cayes Hospital, the only one in this region of southwestern Haiti.

The hurricane ripped away part of the hospital roof. Even so the hospital was filled with the injured, many sharing narrow beds without sheets.

Seventy dead were taken from the city's market place. They were crushed to death when the iron beam roof structure collapsed.

Greeks to Use Force When Turks Move In

NICOSIA (AP)—The Greek Cypriot government will forcibly resist the replacement of Turkish troops based on Cyprus scheduled for Monday, an official source said Thursday. A Turkish spokesman replied that every six months. A Turkish Embassy spokesman said that the Turkish replacement troops will land as scheduled and will reply with force if the rotation is resisted.

Liberal Offer on Flag Debate

'Legislation by Exhaustion'

OTTAWA (CP)—The government offered Thursday night to forgo one day of flag debate each week and present legislation to the Commons on Mondays.

But Justice Minister Favreau attached two big "ifs" to his suggestion.

One was that the Conservatives agree to end the flag debate by the end of September.

The other was that the Commons sit until midnight Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays to make up the seven hours lost on the flag debate.

Walter Dinsdale, former Conservative resources minister, said shortly after that Mr. Favreau's plan amounted to "legislation by exhaustion." He said the Justice minister used the same tactic in vain last spring when he "forced" Parliament to sit through Easter.

Mr. Favreau was responding to the suggestion made earlier in the day—the 18th of the flag debate — by Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre).

Mr. Favreau said the government feels the flag debate must be disposed of. But it was not prepared to give up "flag time" each week.

One "easy" way around this, he said, was to extend the sitting hours Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. The Commons now sits from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesdays.

It also sits from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Mondays and from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Fridays without a lunch break.

Mr. Favreau said the government would be only too happy to have legislation discussed Monday—but with the understanding the flag debate conclude by the end of September.

He said he would try to arrange a meeting of the floor leaders of the five parties to see whether his suggestion could be put into effect next week.

Macdonald, right, and Cowlshaw start 'tell all' trip in Ottawa

Blood Bombers Hit the Road

OTTAWA (UPI)—The blood-bomb twins left Ottawa Thursday after tossing one more missile in the direction of the government—this time in the form of a threat to "blow the lid off" the RCMP security system.

David Cowlshaw, 28-year-old self-styled defender of the "little man," and his man-in-trouble, Calvin Macdonald, old self-proclaimed spy for the RCMP, said they will travel from here to Vancouver. They threatened Justice Minister Favreau that if he didn't clear Macdonald's name of a Communist taint by 3 p.m. they would disclose in public the innermost security secrets of the country. No statement came from Favreau and so they headed for their first stop. In Toronto Macdonald started his cross-Canada expose by telling how he spied. Continued on Page 1

'Keep JFK Torch Burning'

By ARCH MacKENZIE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP)—President Johnson asked the Democratic Party Thursday night for a mandate to begin building a great society and for a rededication to "keeping burning the golden torch of promise which John Kennedy set alight."

On his 58th birthday, the tall Texan, making his nomination acceptance speech as Democratic presidential candidate, said neither weakness nor recklessness have a place in today's world.

"Our promises have become our debts," he said of the party record amid frequent bursts of applause.

He predicted a United States of the future without regionalism, south or north, and warned that lawbreakers creating disorder—a reference to racial strife—will be brought to justice.

CELEBRATIONS

President Johnson spoke at birthday celebrations for him gathered speed inside and outside the huge convention hall on the boardwalk jammed with thousands of people.

"But the gladness of this high occasion cannot mask the sorrow which shares our hearts," he said of the late President Kennedy.

OVATION

Earlier there had been a remarkable 13-minute emotional ovation greeting Robert Kennedy, the president's brother, who introduced a memorial film about the former president. (See Page 3.)

Robert Kennedy had been ruled out by the president as a vice-presidential candidate.

BARREY RAPPEL

The man who did get the nomination, Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, in his acceptance speech, attacked Republican Senator Barry Goldwater as the temporary leader of the Republican Party and an inconsistent 19th century figure.

The night of oratory and applause marked a colorful finale to the four-day Democratic National Convention.

CAMPAIGN START

It also marked the start of the Democratic party campaign leading up to the Nov. 3 elections.

Time and again, Humphrey in his speech had hammered at Republican presidential nominee Goldwater by name — a man he said "has been facing backward — against the mainstream of history."

Johnson didn't name Goldwater, but by the reaction the delegates seemed to think he

The bill — $186.60, paid in traveller's cheques.

'Missile Defence Solved'

LONDON (Reuters)—Two top Russian military experts said Thursday the Soviet Union has successfully solved the problem of destroying attacking enemy ballistic missiles. The Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Deputy Defence Minister Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky and Maj.-Gen. Cherednichenko also said there were "serious flaws" in Polaris submarine missiles and they could be "successfully" countered.

The men were writing in Red Star, the Soviet armed forces magazine.

Bombers on Way

on a speaker at the Dominion United Church in Ottawa five years ago.

Macdonald, standing on the sidewalk in front of his Toronto home, told a small crowd he is listed by the department of veterans' affairs as a Communist and is unable to find a job because of this. He also said he has lost the affection of his wife and eight children because of his activities. The RCMP refuses to acknowledge him.

Macdonald said that at Dominion United Church at the time of his activities there he set up recording apparatus in the church for a speech by James Endicott of Toronto.

Macdonald said Endicott is president of the Canadian Peace Congress and at that time spoke on recognition of Communist China by Canada. He said his contact in the RCMP was Const. Ernest Corrigan of Orleans, Ont., and that Wednesday he called and warned Const. Corrigan of what he intended to do.

Of Corrigan, Macdonald said: "I know he's going to be shipped out. I know what this is going to do to him."

He has not announced when he is leaving on his tour or at what cities he is going to speak.

Cowlishaw, 28, is a former Toronto and Victoria newspaper man who has formed what he claims to be an international organization dedicated to helping persons who have been mistreated.

Clutching a blood-spattered shirt and a stained milk carton, Cowlishaw told a partying news conference on Parliament Hill that they would arrive in Vancouver Sept. 8. Between now and then they will stop at communities along the way, giving out increasingly important security secrets.

Cowlishaw, director of "Underdog," is the one who

Mr. Favreau adopted the same attitude that Conservative Davie Fulton had when he held the post two years ago and Macdonald had made the same demand for government recognition.

Said Mr. Fulton two years ago:

"... The government has consistently followed a policy of complete reticence concerning security work which in such a case means that it must refuse to deny allegations about the employment of secret sources for intelligence work."

Said Mr. Favreau Thursday: "... I make these words of Mr. Fulton my own, and no amount of Opposition questioning could make him change his mind."

As for Macdonald's intention to break security, Mr. Favreau said that this was his responsibility and "I could hardly prevent it." This statement, he said, was supposed to indicate that Macdonald had any secrets to give out.

Armed Mobs Riot, Battle

Maj. - Gen. Nguyen Khanh's ruling junta—the 60-man military revolutionary council—named him and two other generals to run the country for 60 days, that is until a provisional national congress is chosen to pick a new chief of state and cabinet.

Elected to serve with Khanh were Maj. - Gen. Duong Van (Big) Minh, the former chief of state whom Khanh displaced Aug. 18; and Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Kiem, former defence minister.

The full council announced voiding of the controversial constitution adopted when Khanh was elected president 11 days ago and said the council itself now is dissolved.

Professed Catholics made up a crowd of 2,000 which drew the fire of Vietnamese soldiers in a demonstration for preservation of the status quo in government.

Fighting within the city were bands of 1,000 or more armed with stones, clubs, iron pipes and knives. Some carried metal shields. Several were seen dripping blood, apparently from knife cuts.

MAN SHOT

"We were told a hurricane was coming but, my God, no this!" a frightened woman visitor cried after the wind blew out a window at the Fontainebleau Hotel and her hand was out by a piece of flying glass.

When store windows began to explode by the hundreds in Miami, some looting was reported. One man shot by police was in critical condition in a hospital.

There was no definite early estimate of the damage to the Miami metropolitan area, but County Manager Irving G. McNay said he would ask the federal government to declare the city a disaster area.

HELL LATER

The small business administration in Washington said action would be taken when the extent of damage is known.

When Cleo reached Hollywood the glass fronts of the luxurious Diplomat Hotel's lobby and oceanfront rooms collapsed before the wind and 50 guests bedded down in corridors with blankets and pillows.

Several fires broke out at Miami and firemen were unable to cope with them in the high winds of the storm. One warehouse was destroyed at a cost of $500,000.

'Keep Torch of Promise Burning'

had the Republican nominee in mind.

"There is no place in today's world for weakness," he said.

"But there is also no place in today's world for recklessness. We cannot act rashly with the nuclear weapons that could destroy us all. The only course is to press with all our mind and all our will to make sure that these weapons are never used at all."

Democrats have reacted with complaints of recklessness to Goldwater's suggestion that the supreme Allied commander in Europe be given the right to launch tactical nuclear weapons — a power now reserved only for the president.

After the acceptance speech a giant birthday party with fireworks awaited the president on the boardwalk outside the hall. At least three times, Johnson departed from his text to refer to Kennedy or the Kennedy administration.

"Let us here rededicate ourselves," he said, "to keeping burning the golden torch of promise which John Kennedy set afire."

Before the acceptance speeches the convention paused first to grieve for President Kennedy.

Barry Goldwater this November died with a Dallas assassin's bullet a year before the contest could take place.

John Kennedy had been one man who long ago sensed there would be a Goldwater victory at the Republican convention this July, and said so privately.

There were also special tributes to the late Eleanor Roosevelt and the late House Speaker Democrat Sam Rayburn of Texas.

It is a fact that President Johnson, who Thursday night paid tribute to the late president as "one of our greatest Americans," has moved with speed in nine months to make the party his own.

STILL MAGIC

But the Kennedy name is still magic.

Widow Jacqueline Kennedy flew into Atlantic City Thursday and with tears in her eyes received the unstinted applause of the 5,260 delegates and alternates at a special reception.

She was not attending the convention itself, it was announced, because of the emotional strain of watching the memorial ceremony which includes a film called A Thousand Days.

It will be introduced by Robert Kennedy, who has been here off and on but whose presence still draws boardwalk crowds within seconds. Even a few forlorn "Kennedy for vice-president" signs can still be seen.

Your Good Health

Do Some Early Sleuthing And Find Allergy's Cause

Dear Dr. Mohner: Every morning when I go to the kitchen I start sneezing about 10 minutes. This has been going on for two years.

It happens only in the kitchen; no other part of the house. I have tried to figure out what causes it, but can't. I thought you might have some suggestions. Do you think I might have some kind of allergy? —E.L.T.

Allergy is the likeliest possible explanation. But what's the allergy?

You can go to an allergist and perhaps solve the mystery quickly, or perhaps it will take some time.

Or you can do some sleuthing, either by yourself or in co-operation with your doctor.

SLEEP LATE?

If you sleep late, does this sneezing still start only after you have reached the kitchen? Do you sneeze in the kitchen if you have been away from it for the afternoon, and then go back?

Or is the problem only in the morning? If so, analyze your morning routine very carefully. What do you touch, taste of, smell then and only then? Do you, for example, habitually squeeze orange juice, or do you section grapefruit? Or do you invariably reach for a box of oatmeal? What, that is, do you always do in the first few minutes in the kitchen, that you don't do any other time?

ALLERGENS
Orange, grapefruit or lemon peel can be an allergen. So can any number of other things — foods, dust, plants, fabrics. And the list is endless. But the things you always touch when you first go into the kitchen in the morning are NOT an endless list.

If, for example, you always have citrus fruit or juice, substitute something else, tomato juice for example, for a week or two. See if that stops the sneezing. If not, take note of what else you touch. Does a pet — cat or dog — always show up to be fed just then? You may be allergic to animal danders.

Dear Dr. Mohner: I would like to know about keloids, as they are common in my family. Can they be passed on to my children? —D.N.

A keloid is an unusual thickening of a scar; it should not be regarded as a disease. (It may, of course, be a nuisance or a blemish.)

Keloids, or "overgrown scars," tend to occur in younger persons of dark complexion. By "dark complexion," I do not mean Negroes, although keloids are especially frequent among them.

A keloid is an abnormality in the formation of connective tissue (scars being connective tissue) and is usually a familial or racial characteristic.

The search area is described as mixed farming and bush country and has been heavily soaked by rain.

At Democratic Convention

Kennedy Image Still Rouses Roar from Crowd

By LOUIS CASSELS

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — Drenched with emotion, the Democratic National Convention Thursday honored the name of Kennedy.

It paid homage to the martyred John F. Kennedy. It shook the rafters with a thunderous, lasting ovation to the presence of his brother, Robert F. Kennedy.

This 34th national Democratic convention, which four years ago in Los Angeles nominated the man who died from an assassin's bullet in Dallas last November, temporarily gave second billing to the man who now leads their party.

The enormous outpouring of sympathy came a few hours before President Johnson was to deliver his acceptance address.

It was triggered by the sight of Robert Kennedy standing on the podium in the huge Atlantic City auditorium.

Johnson, as every minge delegate in this cavernous auditorium was fully aware, had ruled out Robert Kennedy several weeks ago as vice-presidential choice.

The sight of the almighty built young attorney general, who for so long has borne the heavy burden of grief over his brother's assassination, proved too much. The hall exploded.

Dramatic Moment

It was the dramatic moment of the convention, and veteran reporters could remember very few things like it before.

Kennedy was making his first appearance before the convention, and his purpose was to introduce a film about his brother, "A Thousand Days." He just couldn't get a word out as wave after wave of roars filled the vast hall.

The film, opening with shots of John Kennedy's funeral, and containing sound pictures of many of his famous speeches, originally had been scheduled to be presented the early part of this week, but was put over until today.

Cheers for 16 Minutes

The young party leader tried several times to start his speech by saying, "Mr. Chairman," but each time he was put off by another roar.

Finally Kennedy broke into a small grin, reminiscent of the one made famous by his late brother.

Finally the hall fell silent after 16 minutes of cheering—almost as long as the traditional 20-minute demonstration for a presidential candidate.

As Kennedy spoke, the hall was quieter than it had been at any time since the convention began—even during prayers. Hardly a delegate moved. All motion in the aisles stopped.

His wife, Ethel Kennedy, was close to tears. She sat in the presidential box next to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and listened intently to his every word.

During the ovation, the Alabama delegation remained seated and made no visible effort to applaud. One member said, "we've been having such a good time, we're tired."

Across the floor in the Georgia section, only an occasional delegate joined the applause. At times row after row of Georgia delegates could be seen standing with arms folded while most of the floor rocked with the clapping and yelling.

Victorian Charged In Daring Holdup

FRESNO, Calif. — A Victorian man and two other Canadians were being held in Fresno, in lieu of $11,000 bond Thursday, on charges of armed robbery at a downtown Fresno jewelry store.

In jail were John W. Thomson, 24, of Victoria; George Jackson, 28, of Vancouver, and Cheryl Columbus, 19, of Chilliwack.

Thomson told Fresno authorities he drove Jackson and his girl friend from the Canada-Washington border to Reno, then to Fresno, where he registered under a fictitious name at a motel.

Monday, Jackson said he was broke and asked to borrow Thomson's car. Thomson said the pair left in his car and he did not see them again.

However, he decided to get his car back, went to downtown Fresno, and found the car.

'Collusive Tendering' Brings Highway Ban

TORONTO (CP) — Thirteen Ontario road-surfacing contractors accused of "collusive tendering" have been banned from bidding on provincial highways contracts for three months.

Highways Minister Charles MacNaughton, announcing this Thursday, said the situation will be reviewed at the end of the three-month period.

The accusation was made by the restrictive trade practices commission on Aug. 11. It said in a report the contractors, between 1959 and 1961, had been parties to fictitious bids to the Ontario Highways Department and municipalities in south-central Ontario.

The commission said this constituted undue lessening of competition and gave the companies a virtual monopoly in the area.

Goldwater congratulated Johnson on selection of Humphrey and said:

Goldwater Thanks LBJ For Choosing a Liberal

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater thanked President Johnson Thursday for "drawing the differences between us so sharply" by selecting Sen. Hubert Humphrey as Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

Goldwater took time out from his seafaring vacation off the California coast to issue a statement describing Humphrey's political philosophy as "that of the Americans for Democratic Action which proposes bigger and bigger government programs and more and more government control."

"I welcome Hubert to the Democratic ticket and thank Lyndon for drawing the differences between us so sharply," said Goldwater.

Goldwater, aboard the 83-foot yacht Sundance, moored at Smugglers' Cove off Santa Cruz Island, telephoned his statement to his press secretary.

In his first comment on the Johnson-Humphrey ticket, Goldwater said:

Jerseyites Blow Up Celebration

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — New Jerseyites wished President Johnson a happy 58th birthday Thursday with a celebration that featured three tons of gunpowder, 18,000 capes and a Chinese beauty queen.

In a city where horses dive off high piers as an item of daily entertainment and flagpole sitting gets only passing notice, it took some ingenuity to devise a celebration worthy of attracting attention.

The festivities began with a parade of gaily costumed ethnic groups to platforms set up along the Atlantic City boardwalk. These groups, representing immigrants from a score of countries, entertained for several hours with native dances and songs.

Dragger Hooked On B.C. Tel

VANCOUVER (CP) — The dragger Kalamalka is apparently still hooked up to the B.C. Telephone Co. system.

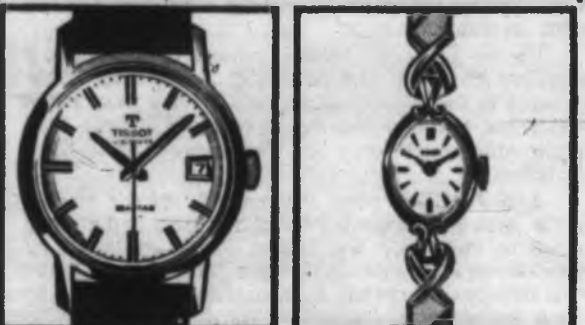

The 120-foot vessel was anchored Thursday for the fourth day, 14 miles west of Point Atkinson, near Vancouver.

A tug and barge lifted the cable half way to the surface Wednesday, but was forced to let go because of heavy weather.

It is believed that the ship's $3,000 net is caught on a B.C. Telephone Co. cable at a depth of 1,200 feet.

Viet Nam Rioters Play Into Mao's Hands

By EDWARD NEILAN
From Saigon

The day-to-day situation may be confused but the pattern is clear.

Whether Communist-inspired or the work of frustrated old-line politicians, the current student-Buddhist riots and government upheaval do severe damage to the South Vietnamese war effort. And, the only ones to gain are the Reds.

There is a saying that the three Rs of Asian students are reading, writing and rioting. A more sinister "R" could be associated with student rioting—a big Red "R."

The Communist influence becomes apparent when one notes that the riots directed against Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh do not have the spontaneity of those a year ago. The 1963 rioting included Buddhists burning themselves to death and eventually the overthrow and slaying of

BACKGROUND

President Ngo Dinh Diem. Some of the elements behind this year's rioting are duped members of the Dai Viet Party. They want to obtain a civilian government, curtail the war effort against the Communist Vietcong, then talk about neutralism.

Only the most naive doubt that agents working among these disgruntled politicians are Communists. Their pattern is the same as it has always been: To encourage nationalist elements, then step in at the last moment and take over.

The Reds give lip service to the desires of the anti-government demonstrators and urge them toward a neutralist policy.

Under a neutralist government, the chances are good that the United States would be told to leave the country with the 21,000 military men supporting the war effort.

There is little the United States could do but leave if such a demand were made. The situation then would be ripe for a Red seizure and the fearful prospect of Communist control of all Southeast Asia.

While the outlook is grim there is still the slim hope that government stability may be restored and the riots may burn themselves out before the Reds can consolidate their position.

The Communists might find the rioting students on whom they depend suddenly lose fervor. South Vietnamese students have a record of instability.

For example, recently they sacked French monuments but when Khanh said all students would be drafted to fight Communists, 5,000 students suddenly applied for visas to study in France.

The Buddhists represent a similar problem. Last year's crisis fused them into the nation's largest single unified body. But, they are widely split on policy.

Leading Buddhists like venerable Thich Tan Chau are against violence and involvement in politics. But, there are younger agitators that demand this.

One of the young monks who figured in last year's planning was cigar-smoking Thich Duc Nghiep, who wore a brown robe but had all the talents of a Madison Avenue public relations man.

His job was to notify correspondents when Buddhists would burn themselves to death and to draft statements.

He was the one who told me at the height of last year's crisis that the situation had become "political" and that the ouster of Diem was its final goal.

He was jailed by Diem but later freed.

The United States recognized Duc Nghiep as a potential lever for good or evil among the Buddhists and awarded him a scholarship to Columbia University where he is now studying comparative religion.

The trouble is that his removal leaves a spot open for an even more unruly type to step in with more agitation.

For the agitator of any stripe, Communist or opportunist, both the students and the Buddhists are No. 1 prospects.

And, as time begins to run out in Southeast Asia, the Peking Communist bosses probably are having a good laugh.

They are making good use of the rioting students and Buddhists and they see things looking better and better for the long-threatened Mao Tse-tung takeover of all Southeast Asia.

'Ears' Parachuted Behind the Lines

From Da Nang, South Viet Nam

Thousands of small transmitter radios are being parachuted behind the lines in North Viet Nam to give the population there "ears" to hear the outside world.

The tiny radios—part of an expanded psychological warfare effort—are dropped from unmarked planes.

The transmitters are fixed on a single frequency so that listeners can hear only programs beamed by the Voice of America from its new multi-million-dollar transmitter in South Viet Nam.

It's Up to Public to Demand Compulsory Vehicle Testing

By IAN STREET

It now seems possible, even likely, that compulsory vehicle testing for B.C. is just around the corner.

The interval could be anything from a few months to a year or more.

It all depends on something that officials in the motor vehicle branch refer to as "public acceptance" of the present voluntary testing program.

So far, with the new mobile testing unit just winding up its first two weeks of operation in Victoria, it appears that public acceptance of the program has exceeded all expectations.

In the first week the unit tested some 664 cars, and while this is only roughly one per cent of the cars registered in Greater Victoria, officials point out that at the rate of 100 cars a day the testing staff is working flat out.

The unit, officials say, couldn't handle any more than this total.

The stickers that are being handed out to cars that pass the roadworthiness tests, inevitably, have come to be regarded by many as a sort of status symbol.

And, as expected, late model cars make up the largest group which underwent the tests here.

There were 306—just under half the week's total—that were 1959 or newer models. Cars between six and 10 years old numbered 261; there were 85 in the years 1949 to 1953; and 12 cars over 15 years old.

CAPITAL REPORT

It's these old cars, the clunkers that Victoria seems to have more than its fair share of, that the motor vehicle branch is most anxious to reach.

Surprisingly, however, even in late models there was a high rate of rejection. Only 193 out of 306 cars in the 1959-64 category were passed on the first inspection. A clean bill was given first time to five out of the 12 oldest cars.

Sometimes it seems that every third or fourth car on the road has one headlight out.

It was quite predictable, therefore, that headlights should top the list of faults turned up by the testing staff.

A total of 140 cars were rejected for some defect connected with the headlights and 64 of these were less than five years old.

The other most common faults were stop lights, 36, number plates and rear plate light, 58, muffler and exhaust system, 19, and brakes, 12.

With the exception of brake defects none of the faults listed above seems very serious.

But, small as they appear to be, a life could hang by their proper functioning.

It is quite apparent, however, that the owners of the most dangerous cars on the road, in the purely mechanical sense, aren't going anywhere near a testing unit while it remains purely voluntary.

These drivers are staying away because they know repairs to steering mechanism or brakes would be costly, perhaps so much so that the car would be put off the road and scrapped.

To reach them, testing must be made compulsory.

Government officials, in discussing the present voluntary mobile testing station, use vague phrases like "not for some while" when asked how long it will be before it gets tough.

But there are indications that when the mobile unit returns from the B.C. Interior late this fall a follow-up program will begin in Victoria with all cars that failed the test being required to return.

This will be the first taste of compulsion.

How far it is extended in the next few months depends upon the reaction of the public.

George Lindsay, superintendent of motor vehicles in B.C., says: "If the public feels the motor vehicle testing program is useful in saving lives and preventing injuries, then it should demand that it be made compulsory. After all, the people are the government."

Russia Tells West Detente Threatened

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet Union served notice Thursday attempts to force it to pay for United Nations peace-keeping operations could shatter the present detente in East-West relations.

The warning, in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, was in line with similar Russian statements and with a firm declaration by Premier Khrushchev when UN Secretary-General U Thant visited Moscow in July.

Pravda said American attempts to force Moscow to pay up to $50,000,000 in outstanding Congo and Middle East costs could do serious harm to the UN and to the cause of international co-operation.

Tokyo Talks to Air Fish Limit

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP)—Japan's hesitancy to recognize Canada's new 12-mile fishing limit is expected to get a full airing at ministerial talks in Tokyo next week.

For Japan, the world's greatest fishing nation, it is a question of principle.

The Japanese are not directly affected by the new Canadian limit; they do not fish that far inside Canadian coastal waters.

However, accepting the Canadian limit could result in new pressure for similar restrictions on Japanese fishing vessels elsewhere, particularly Korea and possibly Russia. Traditional Japanese fishing grounds are within 12 miles of both coasts.

This is only one of the touchy subjects expected to be raised in the Tokyo talks Sept. 4-5.

Sharp, Finance Minister Gordon and Fisheries Minister Robichaud.

Larry Pennell (L.-Brant-Haldimand), Mr. Gordon's parliamentary secretary, also will make the trip. Mr. Sharp left for the Far East Wednesday. He will attend the Commonwealth Economic Conference in Kuala Lumpur before going on to Tokyo. The others leave here Saturday.

Mr. Gordon is expected to remain in Tokyo until the following week for the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund.

In Indonesian Cabinet

Sukarno Names Communist

JAKARTA (AP)—A Communist received a key position in Indonesia's cabinet Thursday in a governmental reshuffling which portends a stiffened campaign against the United States and Britain.

President Sukarno named Njoto, No. 3 man in the Indonesian Communist party hierarchy, as a minister attached to the presidium of the cabinet. The presidium usually draws the broad lines of government policy. Sukarno also promoted left-leaning professor Priskno to senior minister of education and cultural affairs, thus giving him full control over the country's educational system.

Varsity Loans

Quebec Alone Stays Out

OTTAWA (CP) — All provinces except Quebec have decided to enter the plan under which the federal government will guarantee bank loans to needy university students. Finance Minister Gordon told the Commons Thursday.

He said the nine provinces as well as the Yukon and Northwest Territories have named agencies to decide which students qualify for loans. Quebec has chosen to rely entirely on its own system of loans, bursaries and scholarships.

FORMS NEEDED

Mr. Gordon said forms needed for the loan plan will be sent to these agencies and to the banks on Monday. Regulations will be published in the first week of September. Brochures explaining the loan plan will be distributed next week.

Thus the plan will be launched before the start of the 1964-65 academic year, the minister said.

FIVE-YEAR MAXIMUM

The loan legislation recently passed by Parliament provides loans of up to $1,000 a year for a maximum of five years to students meeting provincially-established standards of scholarship and financial need.

They will be bank loans, guaranteed by the federal government. The government will pay interest on the loans while the student is in school and for six months after he leaves. Then the student will start paying both principal and interest, having up to 10 years to pay it in full.

LIMIT SET

The first-year limit on government guarantees is $40,000,000.

Mr. Gordon has estimated this is enough to provide a loan of more than $500 for one out of every three university students in the first year. However, that proportion is unlikely to be reached this year—in fact, for several years.

In British Columbia, applications for eligibility certificates should be sent to the British Columbia Student Aid Loan Committee, Education Department, Victoria.

Perrault:

Ottawa 'House' Needed

Liberal Leader Ray Perrault said Thursday there should be a B.C. House in Ottawa as well as San Francisco and London.

In a press release giving excerpts from a speech, the Liberal leader said B.C. should "make certain we are represented on a full-time basis by full-time representatives" in the nation's capital.

REAL VALUE

"This would be of real value," Mr. Perrault said, "not only in obtaining for B.C. industry our fair share of federal government allocations . . . but new industry and tourism as well."

In addition to achieving "the closest possible" liaison with the federal department of industry, B.C. should devote what Mr. Perrault termed a reasonable sum of money to finance industrial development in the province. He didn't elaborate.

Despite a predicted new investment of more than $3,150,000,000 in our resource-based industries by 1985, he said, there remains a cloud on the horizon.

CO-OPERATION

"This growth will occur in a sector of the economy most likely to employ automation which means that these industries will create the fewest jobs in relation to capital invested," said Mr. Perrault. "Indeed, some part of this predicted resource-based investment will be used to reduce employment."

To back up the huge investment in education and vocational training, the Liberal leader said, there must be co-operation on the part of government, business and labor to promote overall industrial expansion ensuring the steady growth of B.C.'s economy.

SALISBURY (Reuters) One of the two English language newspapers here was closed down Thursday on government orders.

An order banning The Daily News was served on the editor early in the morning, two hours after this white-ruled British colony's Parliament approved by 24 votes to 18 a government motion calling for the ban.

The order came in the wake of Wednesday's government ban on two big African nationalist parties and the declaration of a three-month state of emergency in the African township of Highfield. The Daily News was just about to print a special late edition when the order was served. Editor Eugene Wasson was told he could not continue.

The newspaper—with a circulation of 15,000—supports African nationalism.

Dangerous Drivers Fined

Two young men were fined $150 each in Saanich magistrates' court Thursday for dangerous driving. The car of one of the two, Arthur Creamer, 311 Prospect from a drive Aug. 7 by Kenneth Zaharichuk, HMCS Qu'Appelle. In Victoria magistrate's court he was fined $10 for no driver's licence, $25 for no insurance and $25 for displaying plates other than those issued for the car he was driving.

In addition a $25 fine was imposed on Peter Booth, 1147 Wychbury. Booth had allowed his driver's licence to be used by Zaharichuk.

Joseph Carr, 2894 Ashley Road, was fined $300 and his licence was suspended for impaired driving.

The preliminary hearing of Daniel Fletcher, HMCS Naden, on a charge of attempted rape and indecent assault, has been set for 2:15 p.m. Sept. 8. Fletcher is free on $1,000 bail.

Bruce Shaw, 911 Arcadia, was fined $25 on a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. Two full cases and one partly full case of beer were found in his car Aug. 15.

In addition Shaw was fined $20 for being without an adult while driving with a learner's licence.

Murray Turnbull, 1794 Broadmead, was fined $10 for being a minor in possession of liquor.

Clement Bussiere of HMCS Naden was fined $20 for being a minor in possession of liquor.

Failing to make his books available to the Unemployment Insurance Commission July 20 cost Richard Pailha a $25 fine and $3.50 in costs.

He said his bookkeeper wife was in hospital and he had been too busy to appear at home where the books were kept.

Magistrate Oster said Pailha should have notified the commission about the situation instead of ignoring the request.

Clement Bussiere of HMCS Naden was fined $20 for being a minor in possession of liquor.

Failing to make his books available to the Unemployment Insurance Commission July 20 cost Richard Pailha a $25 fine and $3.50 in costs.

He said his bookkeeper wife was in hospital and he had been too busy to appear at home where the books were kept.

Magistrate Oster said Pailha should have notified the commission about the situation instead of ignoring the request.

Delinquency Emphasis Under Fire

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP)—Society has placed too much emphasis on juvenile delinquency and not enough on youth ministry, the Luther League of North America was told Thursday.

Rev. Wilbur Howard, a Toronto United Church Minister, said juvenile delinquency has been "grabbing the headlines" while the work of ministering to young people receives little notice.

Canada Boosts Education Aid

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada announced Thursday expanded educational aid to developing Commonwealth countries.

External Affairs Minister Martin told the Third Commonwealth Education Conference that Canada will be insulating a program of senior fellowships and awards for visiting educationists over and above its commitment to provide 250 Commonwealth scholarships.

TRANSPORTATION

He also said Canada will provide transportation for students coming to this country under the African students foundation. The foundation is the Canadian voluntary organization which has brought more than 125 African students to Canada during the last four years.

Mr. Martin, leader of the Canadian delegation, said local funds generated in developing Commonwealth countries from the sale of Canadian products and commodities supplied under Canada's aid programs may be used for educational purposes.

The minister said he expected increasing amounts of aid funds will be used to meet requests for educational technical assistance.

Britain also pledged to increase its financial assistance for a wide-ranging educational program in developing Commonwealth countries.

Sir Edward Boyle, education and science minister, made the announcement at the Third Commonwealth Education Conference.

Her Hammer Underlines Complaint

MONTREAL (CP)—A woman who complained about a high water-bill walked into the water taxation office at City Hall Thursday and began breaking window panes and other objects with a hammer.

Police said the woman placed her bill on a clerk's desk, stepped behind him and started on the windows with a small hammer she took from her purse. Then she turned and began pounding small articles on employees' desks.

Two clerks grabbed the woman and took her to police headquarters across the street. She was released after questioning.

Faloney Fires Up Cats Sends Larks Crashing

MONTREAL (CP) — Bernie Faloney came off the bench to regain his role as Hamilton's supreme quarterback and the Tiger-Cats manhandled Montreal's supposedly invincible defense Thursday night as the Alouettes suffered their first Eastern Football Conference defeat of the season, a 33-1 humiliation before 24,477 fans.

The 32-year-old signal caller, under fire for undistinguished work as the Grey Cup champs

Counts then raced 60 yards at the close of the third quarter to Montreal's 12 and two plays later Faloney bounced off Alouette tacklers for a six-yard touchdown run. The last touchdown occurred when Marv Luster dropped a completed pass and Simpson brought it to Montreal's 15, setting up Kuntz' dive from the two after Hal Patterson caught a 13-yarder.

The Alouettes maintained a four-man line against Faloney, preferring pass coverage to rushing the quarterback. But the Hamilton receivers found much open territory and left the middle open for their 216 yard running attack.

The victory went to Al Worthington, who spelled starter Jim (Mudcat) Grant in the eighth. The loser was Wilhelm, who replaced starter Ray Herbert in the seventh.

Joe Adcock's 300th career home run highlighted a four-second inning for Los Angeles and pointed the Angels to their third straight victory over Kansas City, 7-1.

The veteran Adcock, a 36-year-old first baseman in his 15th year in the majors, became the 23rd player in major-league history to hit the 300 plateau, and only the eighth active player to reach that figure.

Don Demeter slammed a decisive two-run double off Boston relief ace Dick Radatz in the eighth inning and Fred Gladding choked off a Red Sox uprising with the bases loaded as Detroit rallied for a 5-4 victory.

TRAMPLE GIANTS

Rico Carty and Woody Woodward each drove in four runs in support of Hank Fischer's three-hitter as Milwaukee trampled San Francisco 13-0.

Carty triggered a six-run first inning with his 14th homer into the left field bleachers, and Woodward capped the outburst with a three-run double. Carty knocked in three more runs with a triple in a four-run sixth while Woodward singled across a run in the seventh.

DETROIT (AP) — American League president Joe Cronin Thursday called a league meeting for the purpose of considering the New York Yankees-CBS transaction.

The meeting will be held in Boston, Sept. 8.

Columbia Broadcasting purchased 50 per cent of the New York Yankees baseball team Aug. 14 after the required, eight of 10 league owners voted "yes" in a poll concerning the proposed purchase.

Subsequently Chicago owner Arthur Allyn contended the vote had been illegal and requested a meeting. Cronin previously had postponed his decision whether or not to file the request.

Oak Bay Wanderers rugby team start practices Saturday at 3 p.m. in Windsor Park. Following practices will be held Tuesday and Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

Lions Cut Don Vicic

VANCOUVER (CP) — Don Vicic, an eight-year veteran of play in the Western Football Conference, Thursday was released by British Columbia Lions.

The 23-year-old graduate of Ohio State became expendable as one of Lions' two-way players when he was replaced at fullback by Canadian rookie Bob Swift and at inside linebacker by Jesse Williams.

Vicic lost the starting fullback job to Swift in the second game of the season. He was returned to the bench after three practices with the club.

Vacuum for Stadium

VANCOUVER (CP) — A giant vacuum cleaner to suck the water from Empire Stadium is being imported from Britain by the B.C. Lions.

"The machine really works," said general manager Herb Capozzi as he gazed at the rain-soaked turf that has become patchy and slippery. "I checked it out."

Lions meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers here Sunday afternoon.

One Streak to Go

EDMONTON (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos will both attempt to end three-game losing streaks tonight when they meet in a Western Football Conference game here.

Roughriders have been defeated twice by British Columbia Lions and once by Calgary Stampeders after two quick victories. Edmonton has lost all three of its 1964 games—two to Calgary and one to Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Despite a dismal Edmonton record, Saskatchewan coach Bob Shaw was careful Thursday not to underestimate his opposition. "We don't like to look more than a game ahead," he said. "They (Eskimos) will be hungry."

Despite his caution, Shaw predicts his club will emerge from its slump.

"I said at the start of the season I'd be happy with three wins and three losses after playing six games in the first 24 days." Final game in that stretch is tonight's to be telecast on the CTV Western network beginning at 8:30 p.m. PST.

Canadian Shines on Safari

Rabbit Hunter Makes It Big

By JOE DUFRES

MONTREAL (CP) — Take a typical hunter in Canada, accustomed only to stalking small game like rabbits and deer, and put him in front of a charging lion in east Africa. What happens?

Well, if his name is Jean Roch Beaudoin, he kills the king of the beasts with one steel-nerved shot from a 30-06 calibre rifle. Oh, yes. Make that a black-maned lion, coveted by the most daring of big-game hunters. Only 12 black manes were killed last year in all of Kenya, where Beaudoin got his. Beaudoin, 29, is a shy, mild-mannered surveyor for the city of Sherbrooke, Que., who got his once-in-a-lifetime chance to go on an African safari by winning a country-wide contest sponsored by a Canadian ammunition firm.

All it cost him was the $5 he spent on a box of shells last fall which made him eligible. The winner was chosen by draw.

He had a remarkable hunt, even by big-game standards. In the three weeks he was on safari near Nairobi, a small village 75 miles from Nairobi, his bag included a lion, leopard, gazelle, two African buffalo, a bear, two warthogs, three zebras, snakes and several species of African antelope.

Beaudoin's first kill was an impala, a species of antelope about the size of the average Canadian deer. Then, he downed a 2,000-pound buffalo and a 100-pound leopard which measured six feet in length.

Beaudoin got the lion three days before the expedition was to end. They were scouring an open plain in a land rover when a native mated on top of the car shouted "Simba!"

"I thought I was watching a movie but there it was, a black-maned lion with a lioness and three cubs about 500 yards away," Beaudoin recalled.

"We crept up to within 300 yards of them. The black mane was walking in circles, pawing the ground, challenging us. The female and cubs had fled, but that lion wasn't afraid of us at all."

"The lion started coming towards us. I took a sight but I was so nervous I couldn't see the tip of my rifle. The second time I took my time and fired. The bullet hit him square in the shoulder and he dropped right there."

After the kill, the natives heisted him on their shoulders and performed a traditional dance while chanting in tribal language:

"The Great White Lion Killer. What did he learn in Africa that will help him in Canada? For one thing, I'll be a better shot," Beaudoin said.

"In Africa, you can see your quarry quite clearly, and you know he can see you too. It's a game of nerves between the animal and you. So you know that first shot has to count."

Would stalking deer be a bore now? "Oh no, no," he replied quickly. "I'm real glad to be back."

Ex-Cowboy Cracks Record

By WILL GEMBLEY

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — George Archer, a six-foot-six ex-cowboy playing his first year on the pro tour, uncorked a record five-under-par 65 Thursday and took a three-stroke lead in the opening round of the $200,000 World Golf Championship.

The game's greatest players were left in his wake as the grinning stringbean from Gilroy, Calif., knocked in five birdies over the final nine holes for a finishing 31 that erased the Oakland Hills course record of 67 set by Ben Hogan 13 years ago.

BAD DAY

Only four players were able to crack the 35-35-70 par of the rugged course on the outskirts of Detroit. It was generally a bad day for the big name stars favored to grab the $35,000 first prize.

Bruce Devlin, a skinny professional from Melbourne, Australia, was in second place with a 68, followed by Richard Sikes of Springdale, Ark., another rookie pro, and 41-year-old Jack Burke, tied at 69.

FALMER 70

Masters champion Arnold Palmer slammed out of the rough and sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole to gain a tie with a cluster of nearly a dozen at even-par 70.

Other prominent in the international field of 138 from 14 countries didn't fare so well.

ALMOST COLLAPSED

British Open king Tony Lema, sneezing and wheezing from a bad cold, registered a 72 and finished almost in a state of collapse.

Bobby Nichols, U.S. PGA champion, shot a 73 while Jack Nicklaus, the year's leading money winner, scrambled in with a 73.

The tricky, rolling greens of the 6,907-yard Oakland Hill layout completely baffled Ken Venturi, U.S. National Open winner, who had to settle for a 74.

Hogan, 52, returning to the scene of his third of four U.S. National Open championships, nailed birdies on the final two holes for a 72 which put him even with such stars as Nichols, Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Alliss of England.

The foreign threats—48 players from 13 countries—made a strong opening charge.

Besides Devlin at 68, veterans

Kel Nagle of Sydney, Australia, Ono of Japan, Ramon Sota of Spain, Bob Verwey of South Africa and Al Balding of Toronto. The 73 bracket included Bruce Baskling fired scores of 36 and Crampton of Australia, Koichi 37.

Sandhill Cranes Now Fair Game

OTTAWA (CP)—Removal of the sandhill crane from the protected list and a limited opening of hunting for canvasbacks and redhead ducks highlight the 1964 migratory bird regulations announced Friday by the Canadian wildlife service.

Hunters will be able to shoot the turkey-sized sandhills in certain southern areas of Manitoba and Saskatchewan Sept. 1-19.

Sandhill cranes have been protected for almost 50 years, chiefly because they bear a close resemblance to the young of the almost-extinct whooping crane. In recent years there has been heavy pressure from Manitoba and Saskatchewan to allow shooting of the sandhills because of the damage they do to grain crops.

The wildlife service has put a rider on its sandhill regulation, however. Daily air patrols will be flown over the hunting areas and if one young whooping crane is spotted with sandhill flocks the remainder of the season will immediately be cancelled.

Sandhill bag limits will be two per day or four in possession. The big, grayish bird is not found in the other Canadian provinces. It is hunted regularly in the southern United States where it is considered highly elusive and difficult to bag.

Canvasbacks and Redheads have been off-limits to duck hunters for the last two years on the Prairies and in Ontario and Quebec. This ban was prompted by a sharp decline in populations.

This fall hunters will be allowed to include two of these ducks in their regular duck bag limit. They may take two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each, but not two of each species.

The wildlife service reported that populations of ducks and geese are at about the same levels as in 1963. Hunting seasons are unchanged from last year and there have been only minor adjustments in bag limits. Drought in the early summer held down Prairie duck production.

Bag Limits Same in B.C.

Bag and possession limits for ducks in B.C. will remain at eight and 16 respectively, according to the 1964 Migratory Bird Regulations released today.

An additional 16 ducks may be held in a hunter's residence or in a cold storage locker.

The bag limit for wood duck is one a day, and the possession limit is also one. Daily bag limit for geese is five, of which not more than three may be black brant. Possession limit is 10 with not more than six brant. An additional six geese may be held in a cold storage locker.

Duck season in this area is from Oct. 10 to Jan. 13 and brant from Jan. 16 to March 10.

Gilbey's state
the correct garnish for gin-and-tonic

Some gins have rather strong flavouring. Others are utterly tasteless. Gilbey's London Dry has a perfect balance for a successful gin-and-tonic. A dry flavour that has been the international favourite since 1873. Quite a long time.

A lime slice sits handsomely on the edge of a gin-and-tonic. (Or it can be immersed). The lime adds colour for your eye, a touch of tartness to your drink.

Garden Notes

Little 'Un for a Lot

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

I think almost every home owner would like to have a rhododendron in his garden, but he thinks only of those big, showy hybrid kinds that bear enormous trusses of blossom in April and May. It takes a pretty big garden to accommodate these giants of the tribe, and they look rather overpowering in a pocket-handkerchief city lot.

If you have only a tiny plot—and always providing you can offer a lime-free soil—you'll find the "wild" or species rhododendrons a much better proposition. Admittedly, some of these are miffy subjects and need a lot of babying along, but there is one of the species rhododendrons which is such an easy doer and is so good natured, it should be planted far more frequently. This is R. praecox.

Praecox means "early," and this rhodo certainly lives up to its name, flowering earlier than the hybrids, and in my garden it covers itself with rosy purple flowers in March. And not only does it bloom early in the year—it blooms early in life too, and it grows very slowly, remaining small and shapely for a long time. My specimen is seven years old and is still only three feet tall, and I am told that five feet is about the maximum it will reach even in good soil.

It is evergreen, and tolerates more sun than most rhododendrons.

My specimen was a tiny plant just a little over a foot tall when I bought it, and it started blooming the year following planting. If I remember correctly, it cost me $3, but I imagine prices have gone up a bit in the last seven years.

After doing battle with black spot on roses, brown rot and shot-hole on cherries and plums, leaf curl on peaches and mildew on almost everything in the garden, one can hardly blame the home gardener for looking upon all forms of fungus life as enemies. Yet we have our friendly fungi too, and some of these are highly essential to plant life.

The roots of coniferous trees in particular seem to enter into a mutual-aid partnership with certain soil fungi, and these plants never seem entirely happy in fungus-free soil. If you were to dig up a small evergreen in the wild, almost certainly you would see this nurse fungus, looking rather like a light dusting of frost on the roots.

I have found it good insurance, when planting any evergreens, to get a bucketful of soil from the woods, taking it from under a healthy coniferous tree. Mixed into the planting site, it inoculates the soil with this beneficial fungus, to the great benefit of the tree.

Speaking of fungi, because a father rolled his five-year-old son directly against the earth to extinguish the boy's blazing clothing, medicine may have a beneficial new agent in the treatment of severe burns. It is a fungus, identified as one of the Fusarium group, which apparently facilitates the healing of burned tissues in humans.

Three days after the little victim had been admitted to the University Hospital at Columbia, Missouri, his wounds were covered with a white, cottony growth. It is surmised that the fungus had been introduced into the burns while the boy was being rolled on the ground.

Fourteen days after the accident the first clean-up surgery was performed. It proved to be one of the simplest and easiest of such procedures in severe burn cases. This was attributed to the action of the fungus growth in freeing the burn debris from the underlying healthy tissue so that it could be removed without the usual cutting and snipping.

This new medical agent has been identified and is now under further study at the university by Dr. John F. Peterson, assistant professor of botany.

SHEILAH GRAHAM Stops Off in Hawaii

Stars Fill Honeymoon Hotel

HONOLULU (NANA)—Edie Adams is honeymooning at the Kahala Hilton with music publisher Marty Miller... Fred Astaire Junior is doing the same with his brand new bride... Ditto Henry Fonda with his Shirley... The James Gamers had happy anniversary sung to them in Hawaiian.

Hotel employees remember nostalgically the honeymoon stopover of Ethel and Ernie Borgnine. Everyone wants to know, "what went wrong?" The mature ex-romancers are not talking, but it's my theory that they had one big fight and that some blows were given and Ethel does not believe in the Noel Coward theory that women are meant to be struck regularly, like gongs.

Honeymooner Brandon de Wille, who plays Ensign Jeremiah Torrey in In Harm's Way, was discussing his next hoped-for project, a play this fall on Broadway.

Pat Neal with husband and three children, sunbathing outside Cabana A—rented by Otto Preminger for the duration of the island shooting of In Harm's Way. Pat was somewhat disappointed, having heard that morning that Elizabeth Taylor looks set for the movie version of Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? Pat had been a likely prospect for the role. Liz Hagen played so brilliantly on Broadway. If Liz is playing the shrill almost demented wife of the college professor, 'twouldn't surprise me at all to find Richard Burton as her movie husband. I can see Richard in the role. But Liz would have to convince me.

Steve Allen, Jayne Meadows and the three boys around the Kahala pool. They had one bad experience in Tokyo, Jane told me—"Our car was surrounded by about 2,000 students, all yelling, 'Yankee, go home!'"

The "rushes" of a film are usually kept under wraps and seen only by the actors, important members of the crew and the directors and producer. But when Otto Preminger returned from a week of filming realistic war scenes on a navy cruiser for his movie, In Harm's Way, he invited the captain, officers of the ship, and his cast and crew, plus members of the press who happened to be in Honolulu, to see the footage that had been filmed at sea. Very realistic, with Commander John Wayne never flinching while the guns boomed, but with a little jumping from Burgess Meredith as Commander E. Powell. If the rest of the film is as exciting, Otto has a winner.

ETHEL and ERNIE... What went wrong?

British speed king Donald Campbell is vacationing in Honolulu with his family, and I interviewed him while he swam in the warm waters in front of the hotel. "I knew your father, Sir Malcolm," I told him. He smiled. "I believe you hold the world's speed record on land and sea," said I, between strokes. He trod water, and nodded. "Yes, I've just come in from Australia." His land record by car was 405 miles an hour, which is almost as fast as a jet. And on water, more than 260 miles an hour. He gave me the exact figure, but I did not have my pad and pencil with me.

Transmogrified Ernie Ford, at the Hawaiian village, was so tanned that guests thought he was a beach boy and asked him to do this and that, which he did, being a good-natured fellow... departing from the same heavenly spot, James Cagney, six children, three surfboards and one husband... also Ben Gurnea, star of Hawaiian Eye. All the kids really believed he was the character he plays on TV.

On Diamond Head road, we stopped to view the Doris Duke home through the telescopes placed in a strategic position, off the road. Alas, the richest girl in the world was not to be seen. She has rented or loaned her magnificent estate to some friends for the summer... But I did see the honeymoon haven for Barbara Hutton and her most recent husband at the Kahala Hilton—the presidential suite. Barry Goldwater will stay at the hotel while he campaigns. Question. Will he stay in the presidential suite?

'Occupant' Misses Fun

By STANTON DELAPLANE

The summer mail has mostly been "Occupant" material. It advises me to take the enclosed coupon to the nearest grocery. With this coupon, I can divide the grocery for two bars of soap at the price of one.

"Special introductory offer! Amazing new value!" "Return within 10 days if not fully satisfied!"

Recently I saw where a mailman was nabbed by police. They went to his house and found a lot of undelivered mail. Stuffed in the closet.

Most of it was addressed to "Occupant."

The inspectors said, "Hey, there, boy. How about all this mail you were supposed to deliver?"

"I couldn't find half the people," said the carrier.

He said people had moved. His feet were giving him fits. So he just took most of this mail home. Tucked it away in the closet.

The postal inspectors were aghast. It is tradition that the mailman must carry mail to "Occupant." Through storm and sleet and dark of night.

It then lies around Occupant's house, mixed up with bills and letters to be answered. Important phone numbers are scribbled on the back.

Then somebody gives it the deep dip in the fireplace. And, by mistake, also dumps bills and the envelope with the phone number.

The only satisfying way to get mail is in a box at a country post office.

We used to get our mail that way. We came down to get the mail about 10 o'clock. Everybody stood by and cut up touches while the mail was being sorted into the boxes, each envelope making a little clicking sound.

There were some good pictures on the wall:

"Wanted for armed robbery and assault."

I hardly know who is wanted anymore. I used to know.

Along with vital statistics of height, weight and fingerprint classification.

I was not just "Occupant." I was right in there. In the chase. Pursuit of justice.

The mail came out of a little cubby locker. You opened it with a combination lock—no many turns right, no many turns left. A safe-cracking technique.

When you got the mail out of this box, you took the "Occupant" kind of mail and dumped it forthwith in a big barrel that stood in the corner.

It did not lie around the house and get important phone numbers written on the back. Did not slide down between the couch cushions where, when you pulled it out, you got stabbed by lost pins.

You could stand around the post office. Read the good mail. Buy stamps and find out what was going on.

Who was building a new addition on the house. Whose party kept everybody awake till all hours of the night. Whose child had the measles. Whose husband had taken to drink. And who had driven him to it.

Such pleasures are denied "Occupant."

"Occupant" is a number on a street. A code for soap coupons.

"Occupant" doesn't know what's going on with his neighbor's neighbor.

"Occupant" doesn't know who's wanted or why. "Occupant" doesn't feel very much wanted himself.

Price of Working in West Germany

Girls Labelled 'Unclean'

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Southern European girls who work in West Germany have a hard time finding a husband when they get back home, the federal employment office reports.

This is particularly true in Turkey, Spain, Greece and Italy, a spokesman said, "where West Germany is known as a country where girls succumb to manifold temptations."

"They who go to Germany to work become unclean," he said.

"This is a high price to pay for young girls who come here to support their families or save for a dowry."

This prejudice goes so far that most southern European girls stay home now to avoid any possible stigma, he said.

"So even if West Germany were as sinful as its reputation in some foreign countries, these girls do not even have a chance to be affected," he said.

While West German industry would like to hire more girls abroad, he said, "We must fight the prejudice these girls will not be clean anymore when they return to their native countries after a few years."

About 1,000,000 foreigners work in West Germany at the moment, some 25 per cent of them women.

Thirty Missing After Collapse

CIUDAD BOLIVAR, Venezuela (AP) — Rescue teams searched the rapids of the Caroni River Monday for 20 to 30 persons believed missing after the collapse of a foot-bridge under the weight of about 100 persons. Four persons were killed in the 50-foot plunge. All were attending a picnic.

planning branch, said Thursday standby groups have been selected in every major city ready to be called in should such an emergency arise.

Mr. Woodside said 34 zones have been set up. Each has a group of five to 25 persons, depending on population, assigned to take on the task should war start.

In addition to some organizations, there is a committee for each major city and a supervising group for each province.

Members of the committees are drawn from business, industry and local government. Provincial and municipal authorities co-operated in selecting them.

Mr. Woodside said the committees have no activity or purpose at present. They would be called to meet only if a war emergency arose. They have not been assigned a disaster role.

'An Interesting Summer'

900 More Can Swim

By MARGIE NAYSMITH

I write this column in gratitude to 900 children, for giving me such an interesting summer. I consider it a privilege to be allowed to share so many exciting moments, such as the thrill of floating on the water for the first time and the excitement of the first few strokes.

SMILE ON FACE

Anyone who wonders how I can do this year after year has never seen the smile on the face of a child who has been terrified and then all of a sudden finds he can float. If he did, he would never wonder again.

Apart from swimming, I am included in many other wonders of a child's world—such as a few dandelion seeds floating through the air. I really was surprised to find they were fairies going across the lake to a party, according to the little eight-year-old girl at my side. Now for swimming statistics.

We started with 800 children and 72 could not swim at all. We finished with only seven who had not learned to swim or glide but we feel most of them have learned to blow their bubbles—this means they have learned to get their faces in the water.

The next step will be floating and it should come soon if they get lots of practice.

News Workers Need Permits

OTTAWA (CP) — The government ruled Tuesday that 10 Americans who entered Canada in connection with the Toronto newspaper strike must become landed immigrants and receive work permits before they can hold jobs. Meanwhile, in Toronto, printers rejected a new offer in the six-week strike.

Bandits Fire —With Paint Guns

CARACAS (AP)—Four heavily armed pro-Communist terrorists invaded a downtown branch of the Bank of Venezuela Thursday, tied up a guard and two employees, and then opened fire — with paint guns.

Police said the four sprayed the insignia of their organization, Armed Forces for National Liberation, on the bank's walls.

Police arrived before the four could gather up any of the bank's money. Two were captured and police rounded up several suspects in a search for the other two.

A sub-machine-gun, three pistols and two grenades were taken from the two arrested.

Suitcase Went South

ENUNCLAW, Wash. (AP)—Note to John H. Addison, Liberal Member of Parliament for York North:

The suitcase that dropped off your car on Vancouver Island last week—the one with the jewelry—can be picked up at the police station of this community 20 miles south of Seattle.

***

The story of how it got there was told Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wanser of this community.

They were driving behind the Addison car on Highway 19 between Courtenay and Miracle Beach when the suitcase dropped off.

They picked it up but couldn't halt the Addison car.

***

The next morning they opened the case and found some jewelry. They did not think the jewelry—including two diamond rings—looked valuable but they were "just curious enough to have them appraised."

They were told the jewelry was worth $30,000.

Mr. Addison had reported the loss to RCMP. The suitcase has been turned over to police here.

Ex-Victorian Dies Up-Island

PORT ALBERNI — A former Victoria resident was pronounced dead on arrival at West Coast General Hospital, where he was taken after being found lying on the sidewalk about 3:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Walter Adamek lived at the Fairfield Hotel in Victoria until three or four months ago, when he left saying he was going to stay with a friend in Port Alberni.

The elderly man checked into the Somass Hotel only a few days ago and had paid several days' room rent in advance.

There are no known relatives in Canada.

An inquest will be held.

Giant Drill on Way For Water Tunnel

A giant drill which will be used to chew a five-mile-long tunnel through Japan Gulch and improve Victoria's water supply will be ready for tests by the end of September.

The $250,000 mechanism is half-completed in Vancouver. It will be used by InterMountain Construction to drill an eight-and-a-half foot diameter tunnel from Sooke Lake, where Victoria gets its water supply, to Goldstream.

EARLY FINISH

Work on the $1,700,000 contract is to begin on Nov. 1 and will be finished in about 18 months, although the company has until 1968 to complete its contract with the water board.

The five-mile-long supply line which connects the Sooke watershed with Goldstream reservoir will replace the present 36-inch pipe which meanders for 25 miles.

BENEFITS

It will increase the supply in a capacity sufficient for 250,000 people. This can be further increased by trunk line improvement.

Benefits of the new supply line will include colder water for Victorians, a decrease in the amount of chlorine needed and elimination of the present 25 per cent leakage.

Requiem Mass Today For Sister Mary Muriel

Requiem mass will be sung in St. Ann's Convent at 11 a.m. today for Sister Mary Muriel, of 925 Burdett, who died Wednesday.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. V. Savoie, and four brothers, Albert, Leo, George and Francis, all of Hornby Island; four sisters, Mrs. Josephine Strachan, Courtenay; Mrs. Margaret Franchuk, in Saskatchewan; Mrs. Mary Pickering and Mrs. Muriel Cowie, both of Hornby Island, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Remi Savoie, Victoria. Burial will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

City Flowers Win Prizes At PNE

Four members of the Victoria Gladiolus and Dahlia Society learned today that they had won a total of 80 prizes in the flower show at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver.

The members are Anne Steers, 1618 Richmond; R. A. Pedersen, 4115 Delmar; W. A. Kempster, 730 Greenies, and W. J. Boshier, 735 Cordova Bay Road.

Mrs. Steers attributed her success to the weather. "I grew my flowers for the local show, but the weather was so poor that I was too late for it. However, they grew just in time to be entered in the PNE," she said.

We've told you how the Volvo Canadian out-accelerates other popular-priced compacts and gets over 30 miles to the gallon.

The Volvo station wagon does the same thing. It just carries more kids, shrubbery, packages, etc. while doing it. Come in and we'll demonstrate.

Gorge Getaway Completes Theft

A thief with $1,798 worth of loot apparently used the Gorge Inlet for his escape from the Victoria Motor Court, 98 West Gorge, early Thursday morning.

At 3:10 a.m. the culprit entered the front door of Cabin 15 and prowled two bedrooms while two couples from California slept.

He removed two men's wallets and a lady's purse containing $918 in cash; $800 in travellers' cheques and a gold chain with jade pendant valued at $80.

One of the occupants awoke as the thief left the front door. Sarnich police were called and sealed off the area.

Special Constable George Barr of Victoria city police was brought to the scene to track with police dog Rex.

The dog led around to the right of the cabin and along a path located behind the cabins on the edge of Gorge waters. The

Zanzibar Gets Help

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union was reported Thursday to have sent some of its top military instructors to the United Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar, apparently to counter Communist China's growing influence in the African nation. Together with experts sent earlier this year, the number of instructors on the island of Zanzibar was understood to be 75. They were said to have brought their families, indicating the Soviet military aid program was of a long term nature. The aid program reportedly includes the supply of anti-aircraft equipment, artillery and small arms. A high Soviet defence ministry representative was understood to have completed a personal inspection of the missions on Zanzibar.

Communist Chinese influence has been felt in the area since the two countries united following a leftist revolt which toppled the Sultan of Zanzibar last Jan. 12. The hard line, anti-Soviet policy has been pushed by political agents aided by Peking-trained local politicians.

The Russians apparently were concentrating their training on the Zanzibar People's Liberation Army, which has been kept separate from the joint forces of the United Republic.

China Aids Imperialism Mr. K Says

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Thursday unleashed a blistering attack on Communist China and accused Peking of aiding the forces of imperialism.

At the same time, the 70-year-old Soviet leader again lashed out at the United States, charging that "the aggressive actions of American imperialism are fraught with the gravest consequences for the cause of peace and security of nations."

Khrushchev addressed a giant Soviet-Czech friendship rally and heard new assurances of support in his showman campaign against Communist China. Czech President Antonin Novotny assured Khrushchev his government would fully support the Soviet Union's call for a world party summit meeting to discuss the Moscow-Peking rift.

No Espionage Net

Red Garbage Cans Don't Interest U.S.

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States tried Thursday to counteract Soviet charges that President Johnson's disarmament plan would establish an espionage network on Russian soil.

"We don't want to go poking into every garbage can in the Soviet Union," U.S. Ambassador Clare H. Timberlake told the 17-nation disarmament conference.

FREEZE SOUGHT
The Johnson plan calls for a freeze on the production of systems to deliver nuclear weapons, including rocket launchers, aircraft and ships.

Timberlake said the inspection details for the freeze to make sure it was not being violated would be as unobtrusive as possible.

The Soviets have rejected the proposal as "control without disarmament." The Russian delegate did not speak.

SAFEGUARDS
Timberlake said a treaty ratifying the freeze should contain provisions against "abuse of inspection privileges." Both the United States and the Soviet Union should be permitted "to institute appropriate safeguards to assure the security of sensitive installations," he said.

In the initial stages of the inspection system, observers would check rocket launching sites which had been marked for dismantling, closing or conversion to other purposes, Timberlake explained.

At other places, inspectors would verify that only agreed number of nuclear delivery vehicles were being produced.

Quake Rocks Soviet Arctic

MOSCOW (AP)—A severe earthquake rocked wide areas of the Soviet Arctic Wednesday, Tass news agency reported Thursday.

It said the quake's epicentre was in the Sea of Laptev, off the Siberian north coast, and affected a large uninhabited area. There was no mention of damage or casualties.

Crash Kills Man

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—RCMP identified Wesley Stanley Weston, 28, of Calgary, as the crew member killed when a twin-engine survey plane crashed here shortly after take-off.

The plane crashed five miles south of Whitehorse after taking off in a light drizzle. The Anson aircraft was owned by Spartan Airways of Ottawa and had been doing survey work in the area.

EXPORTS UP

Australia noted a record level for exports for the last financial year with sales up $222,180,000 over the previous year.

PINAWA, Man. (CP)—Bulk of the work force building a federal nuclear research station here have walked off the job, an official said Thursday.

Canadian General Electric is building the research station for Atomic Energy of Canada, the crown corporation.

OTHERS FOLLOW

Val Bonch, CGE resident manager, said 30 electricians walked out Tuesday and 50 others in the building trades followed suit.

The men are employed by company sub-contractors. Mr. Bonch said about 30 workers remained on the job.

He said a list of union grievances presented Thursday dealt mostly with accommodation and most of those were rectified. Mr. Bonch said he doubted the complaints were at the root of the problem.

Cheer Up, Mother

School Doors Open In 10 More Days

Mothers might find cheer in the thought their summer sentence is almost over—school starts in 10 days.

But on the other hand, Sept. 8 marks the return of more than 33,000 traditionally unhappy students to schools throughout Greater Victoria, Saanich and Sooke.

They'll be squaring off against 1,200-plus teachers who will attempt to dish out knowledge in an easily digestible form.

To city merchants, the annual back-to-school trek means dollars in the till.

Mothers are spending thousands of dollars to dress and equip their offspring properly with a multitude of supplies for school.

Students will spend about two hours in school Sept. 8 to arrange timetables, renew old friendships, meet some teachers, make a list of more supplies which may be needed and then return home to rest up for the first day of classes Sept. 9.

University of Victoria students have a few more days of rest before starting classes Sept. 21. In person registration begins Sept. 15 and almost 2,500 students are expected as the institution enters its second year as a degree-granting university. Attendance will be about 400 higher than last year.

Students from Japan, the West Indies, England, almost every province in Canada and most states in the U.S. will be attending the university in addition to the bulk from Vancouver Island.

The university offers two faculties, arts and science and education, and about 140 instructors will be on hand compared with 110 last term.

Greater Victoria's 12 secondary and 35 elementary schools will welcome about 26,000 students this term—an increase of about 1,000 over the past term. They'll be guided by 947 teachers—44 more than before.

Almost 150 teachers are in Victoria for the first time professionally and they'll meet with trustees and officials at a tea to be held in St. James Douglas Elementary School Sept. 11.

Greater Victoria students who are new to the district and haven't registered for school must report to their nearest school at prescribed times.

Those in Grades 1 to 7 may register on the regular opening day of Sept. 8 but Grade 8 and 9 students must register Sept. 1, 2 or 3 and Sept. 1 for Grade 10. Students in Grades 11 or 12 must register Aug. 31, Sept. 1 or Sept. 2.

On opening day in Greater Victoria, students in Grades 1

Joey Stephenson shops for new jacket

to 7 are asked to report at 9 a.m.; at junior secondary schools, Grade 8 at 9 a.m., Grade 9 at 10 a.m. and Grade 10 at 11 a.m.; and at senior secondary schools, Grade 10 at 9 a.m., Grade 11 at 10 a.m. and Grade 12 at 11 a.m.

Sooke's three secondary and 11 elementary schools will open their doors to about 3,400 students under 133 teachers compared with 115 last term.

And in Saanich, almost 3,300 students will fill four secondary and 14 elementary schools under 138 teachers—15 more than last term.

Both Sooke and Saanich report enrollment is about 10 per cent higher than last year.

Construction of new additions and other work was carried out by all three school districts during the summer but most projects are expected to be completed by the time school starts.

However, in Sooke, a shift system will be used at Langford elementary school until the Atkins Road school is built.

Although some other schools may be slightly crowded until additions or alterations are completed, shift systems are not expected anywhere else.

Strike at Yarrow's Possible When Office Workers Vote

A strike vote Monday by 47 office workers at Yarrow's Limited may take 630 shipyard workers off the job for the second time this year.

A government-sponsored strike vote will be taken Monday by Office Employees' International Union, Local 15.

The office workers honored picket lines of 23 shipyard unions which were on strike from the first week of February till the last week of April.

It is believed the same unions will return the courtesy if the office workers go on strike.

First Sex Course Ahead For 200 Grade 8 Pupils

By GARY OAKES

A short sex course will be taught to about 200 Grade 8 students in Greater Victoria this year, it was learned Thursday.

And the course, a pilot project in sex education, will be called Family Life Education, according to Greater Victoria School Superintendent John Gough.

In a move designed to curb criticism of the project, trustees of Greater Victoria school district 61 have decided the course will be taught after school and only to those students who have parental consent.

Doctors and senior nurses of the metropolitan health board will teach the course, expected to be completed in three lectures, to separate classes for boys and girls.

TO BE EVALUATED

Mr. Gough told the Colonist the results of the lectures will be evaluated by education and health officials "and if satisfactory it could be expanded during the coming school term."

But, the superintendent explained, a properly trained staff would be required before such a course could be adopted into the general curriculum.

Mr. Gough wouldn't name the school which has been selected to hold the course because officials want the project instituted "quietly and without fanfare."

TRUSTEES APPROVE

Trustees have approved the course but will be given a sample lesson, complete with plastic models, before the project begins with the students.

Major objectives of the course are:

- To help the individual play a valuable role as a contributing citizen in a family situation;

- To enable children to gain the necessary understanding, information and guidance that will equip them to deal confidently with situations that they confront daily;

- To develop in children positive attitudes about the marvel, mystery and beauty of the creation of new life as they learn biological and anatomical facts relating to reproduction.

Special plastic models have already been ordered and October has been set as the target date.

Parents of pupils participating will be kept fully informed of the course matter.

POLICY SET

The board adopted a policy in August last year to introduce a program of sex education and since then Mr. Gough has worked closely with senior Medical Health Officer Dr. John L. Whitbread.

"We wish the parents to be satisfied," Mr. Gough explained, "and we also want the backing of the clergy. As a result we're being very careful in what we do."

Mr. Gough said the many weeks of study indicated a program of sex education "must have a dual value: (a) to provide information and (b) to promote moral attitudes, both of these being complementary and interrelated."

The Victoria Symphony Orchestra will receive a Canada Council grant of $7,000 similar to last year's grant, it was announced in Ottawa Thursday.

Colonist City Hall Reporter

Lowest bid received by city council Thursday for construction of the police station-court house complex in Centennial Square was $168,786—more than 50 per cent above the estimate for the job.

Aldermen sat in stunned surprise as they compared the tender of Farmer Construction Ltd. for $467,896, with the estimate they had before them—$299,110.

"USELESS"

Two other bids were received: E. J. Hunter and Sons, $478,530 and Burns and Dutton, $485,500.

"It is obvious that the preliminary estimates submitted to us were completely useless," said Mayor R. B. Wilson at the conclusion of the short meeting.

Plans and specifications for the renovation of the present police station and the construction beside it of a municipal courthouse were prepared by architect Donald Wagg.

MEETING

After the meeting Mr. Wagg said that his firm was responsible for the submission of estimates to city council.

Immediately following the meeting Mayor Wilson called city manager Dennis Young, comptroller James Bramley, projects architect Rod Clark and Mr. Wagg together for a conference in his office.

It was decided at the meeting that Mr. Wagg, Mr. Clark and Police Chief J. F. Gregory would go over all the figures and try to come up with some conclusions and reasons for the discrepancy.

NOT HOPELESS

"I wouldn't say it was hopeless," said Mr. Clark.

Mr. Wagg said that there were lots of things put into the estimates after the original specifications were given.

"It was certainly prepared to the best of our knowledge at the time," he said.

CREPT IN

Mayor Wilson, after the conference, said that undoubtedly some things had crept into the estimates after the original figure was arrived at.

"We are going to go into the matter and see just what the basic requirements are in this case," he said. "Until we have those figures it will be hard to say just what we will do."

EVALUATION

Ald. A. W. Toome, chairman of the centennial committee under which the construction of the police station falls, said that some sort of "appropriate action" will have to be recommended to council.

"We're going to have to obtain a thorough evaluation of tenders in the light of the estimate we have been given," he said.

AMOUNT LEFT

It was pointed out that the capital budget plan, as approved by the voters this spring, contains the amount of $375,000 for construction of the police station-court complex.

However, out of this amount was to come architects' fees, expected to be about $28,000, and the cost of furniture, heating and contingencies. The actual amount left for construction was $299,110.

REPORT BACK

When Thursday's short meeting began a resolution was put before council that the bids be opened and considered by the appropriate committee (a combination of the centennial committee and police commission) and that the committee be empowered to act.

When the time of the bids was seen the city manager asked that the bids be considered by the committee but that it be required to report back to city council for action.

It is pretty obvious, said Mr. Young, that this will have to be done. Accordingly, the resolution was amended.

Province Firm

Winter Works Pay Policy Won't Change

By IAN STREET

Colonist Legislative Reporter

The provincial government Thursday stood firm on its policy that B.C. will only share in wages paid to winter works employees hired from welfare rolls.

Mayor A. V. Fraser of Quesnel, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, and executive director T. R. B. Adams presented the municipalities' case to Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell.

"They made a strong representation," Mr. Campbell told the Colonist following the private meeting. "I listened."

The minister said he informed the UBCM delegation that the government was sticking to the policy announced earlier. "I told them we had nothing further to offer," Mr. Campbell said.

"I think the provincial government is making a serious mistake taking this attitude," said Ald. A. W. Toome, one of the city aldermen to protest the curtailment of winter works benefits.

"This protest has been a real expression of opinion on the part of all municipalities as expressed by the UBCM, and it should not be ignored."

Defeating Purpose

"I think the government is defeating the whole purpose of winter works, the relief of unemployment by this action and this refusal to reconsider," Ald. Toome concluded.

Mayor R. B. Wilson said that he preferred to make no comment on the action of the provincial government until he had some official word that the government refused to reconsider.

Victoria has requested that the government return to the system of winter works grants year in Burnaby on Sept. 23 adopted in previous years where B.C. paid half the wages of welfare recipients who were hired and 25 per cent of the wages of anyone else working on approved projects.

The federal government pays a flat 50 per cent of wages for workers on winter works.

The city's position and other similar stands taken by municipalities will be debated when the controversial government action is debated on the floor of the UBCM convention to be held this year in Burnaby on Sept. 23 to 25.

Fountain Circle Finished

City Planners Attend 'Closing of the Ring'

City planners had a Churchillian feeling Thursday, they said. They were present at the "closing of the Ring."

What they meant was that they saw the last precast, sculptured concrete shape dropped into the perimeter of Centennial Fountain and the circle completed.

The fountain, 40 feet in diameter, now awaits the cast-iron monoliths, the tallest 30 feet high, which will dominate the centre.

The sculptured shapes which form the perimeter were made on the spot. They were formed one a day for a month and hoisted into position.

Construction of the 50-room luxury motor hotel awaits approval by the municipality of Saanich and a satisfactory arrangement with the liquor control board. A report by J. B. Ward and Associates shows the project to be economically feasible.

A new company will be formed to own and manage the hotel and construction will be by Marquardt Construction. It is Bowladrome.

Married in Winnipeg

The marriage of Redfern Charlotte, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Agnew, Winnipeg, Man., and James Donald Mewhort, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mewhort, Victoria, B.C., was solemnized Aug. 21 in Windermere United Church, Fort Garry, Winnipeg. Rev. W. E. Donnelly officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon organza over taffeta. Lace appliques, studded with seed pearls, crisscrossed the front panel and the top of the bodice. A large white bow at the back waist held the flowing train. She wore a gold bracelet formerly worn by her maternal grandmother and her own mother at their wedding, and an amethyst pendant worn by her paternal grandmother and also her mother. She carried roses, white heather and ivy.

Miss Dorothy Copeland was maid of honor, with the bride's two sisters, Janice and Carol Agnew as bridesmaids. All three wore French blue sparkle organza dresses in simple style, the bell shaped skirts fashioned with a large bow at the back waist. Bouquet of matching illusion was held by a nylon bow. They all carried gold chrysanthemums.

Clallam County Group Here for SVID Picnic

Bright sunshine, well laden picnic tables and the beautiful Beacon Hill Park provided the setting for the recent Border Picnic when 90 members of Clallam County Homemakers journeyed to Victoria to spend the day with members of South Vancouver Island District Institutes. Well over 200 participated in this yearly event which alternates between Port Angeles and Victoria, enabling an exchange of ideas and a day of fellowship between two groups who share similar aims and objects, although they are citizens of two separate countries.

On arrival the visitors were taken on a tour of the Parliament Buildings and then to Beacon Hill Park for lunch.

Tables were laid in the shade of the big oak trees and each Institute entertained several guests while the members of the South Vancouver Island District Board were hastened at a beautifully decorated head table to the officers from Clallam County Homemakers and other honored guests. Each person present received a small corsage in the Institute colors of green, gold and white, these being the work and the gift of Miss Savory of Victoria.

With the flags of both countries displayed, the assembly sang "O Canada" and "The Star Spangled Banner" prior to being seated.

Following luncheon, Mrs. H. Scott, vice-president of South Vancouver Island District Board welcomed the guests. Mrs. Scott said she was "a great believer in the power of women to accomplish anything they want." She pointed to the accomplishments of women of the world through ACWW and stressed the marvelous friendship enjoyed by Canadian and American women across the unguarded

European Tour

Students Shed Tears Leaving Switzerland

By TRUDY KEMP

She took a cruise on the Rhine, shopped in Milan, toured dungeons in old castles, went swimming in Lake Geneva and cried when she left Switzerland.

These experiences and many more exciting ones were enjoyed by Susan Zaccarelli, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Zaccarelli of Biscoe Drive, and 251 other young people from Victoria, Vancouver and the Prairie Provinces. They were all members of the student group, Canero, which toured Europe and England this summer for seven weeks.

LEFT JULY 6

The Victoria students, about 135, left here by ferry on July 6 for Vancouver where they joined the Vancouver group for the train trip across Canada. They boarded a jet in Montreal bound for London and after a brief stop flew to Brussels where they were met by their tour guides and put on the five European buses geared for a tour of the continent.

Susan and her travelling companions arrived home last Friday morning with many miles of adventure behind them.

"And I tried to tell all about those seven weeks in one night when I arrived home," Susan laughed. "I don't know what I would have done if I hadn't kept a diary every day."

SAW MUCH

"We saw so many things and did so much in those seven weeks."

"Paris was our first stop," she continued. "We spent five days there visiting both historical and modern points of interest. We were on the go all the time in Paris, more so than anywhere else."

One of the highlights of the Canadian students' visit in France was Bastille Day parade. They also took in the renowned fireworks display that evening at Pont Neuf.

They left Paris July 15 for Lausanne, Switzerland, spending about 13 hours on the bus.

ALPS FABULOUS

"I just loved Switzerland, it reminded me so much of home. And, oh those Alps, they're fabulous," she exclaimed.

"I even went swimming in Lake Geneva," Susan said. "The beaches are so nice but terribly crowded. Swimming is quite the sport there."

While in Lausanne the young people stayed in a place on the style of YM-YMCA. "There were community showers and the girls could use them at 7:30 a.m. and the boys at 8:30 a.m.," she said.

VISITED CHILLON

On one of their day trips the Canero group visited the castle of Chillon, the famed castle in Lord Byron's work "Prisoner of Chillon."

"We went down into the dungeons. They were so cold and damp," Susan continued. "Even the original chains used on the prisoners were still hanging there."

"The Canadians fell in love with Switzerland and the people and it was with regret they said their goodbyes."

"Everybody was friendly and kind to us. Many of us actually cried when we left Switzerland," Susan said.

The five bus loads left the land of the Alps on July 20 heading for Italy where they stayed three days.

"We were 10 hours on the bus—the longest period in our whole trip."

The bus Susan was on stayed at Portezza, a little village not far from Lake Como. Their next stop was Salzburg, Austria, and while there they stayed at a small hotel located on a farm about 1½ miles from the city.

"We woke up to the crowing of roosters," she laughed.

DANCES, SONGS

They took a side trip to Berchtesgaden and visited Hitler's lair, and rode up the mountain on a chair lift to Königssee Lake during their stay in Salzburg.

A climax to their Austrian visit was the Jung Salzburg Festival featuring dances and songs with everyone dressed in their colorful native costumes. "That was really seeing Salzburg," Susan commented.

Nicci Lucas Honored At Shower

Miss Nicci Lucas was entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. C. Fletcher and Mrs. C. Seaman at the Hay Lake Drive home of the former.

Gifts were on a display counter decorated in yellow, green and gold. Satin rose corsages were presented to the bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. L. Lucas and the mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. E. Abercrombie.

A shower cake, decorated in yellow and green, was on the display counter and refreshments were served from a lace covered table centred with a floral arrangement in the same color scheme.

Other guests were the Misses Goldie Knowles, Beverly Knowles, Barbara-Jean Knowles, Noreen Starkey, Eileen Paine, Nancy Robinson, Edna Clark, Jean Knowles, Pamela Clark, Jill Abercrombie, Carolyn Smith, Nancy Reynolds, Judy Paine and Alice Page.

The students' next three-day stop was Koblenz, Germany.

"Here we took a cruise on the Rhine which is sure busy with all kinds of river traffic," she said.

They also took day trips to Cologne and Bonn and visited the Pottery Village. On July 31 they left Koblenz for Ostend for a week's visit.

Ostend is so beautiful with its miles of sandy beaches. I'd love to go there again," exclaimed Susan.

MISS BEACHES

"Dunkirk was our next stop of interest," Susan said, "but our group didn't get to see the beaches where the soldiers landed because our bus got lost on the way."

During the tour of the Continent the Canadian students also stopped at Ypres and visited the graves of their fellow Canadians.

"We went into the old trenches and through the connecting tunnels. We saw the old rifles and helmets left there from the First World War. It was quite an experience," she continued.

On their last night in Ostend the young people were guests at a big party in Middelkerke Casino. The party was arranged by Mr. Roy Mercer, who was in charge of the Canero tour, and it gave Susan and her companions a chance to say their goodbyes to their drivers and guides.

BOAT RIDE

Susan said they had a lovely boat ride over to Dover and she was quite impressed when she saw the White Cliffs.

"They're white"—they really are," she exclaimed.

They arrived in London on Aug. 7 and stayed there for about six days, taking in as many of the famous sights as time would allow.

While in England the group had free time to visit relatives and friends or take other side trips.

Susan and three other girls went on the tour to Bristol and stayed with an English family for three days before returning to London and then home.

Honeymooning In Okanagan

Geraldine Dorothy Francis became the bride of Mr. Gordon Stewart Armstrong at a pretty summer evening wedding in Esquimalt United Church.

Rev. G. H. Turpin officiated at the double-ring ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Jack V. Francis, 3465 Bethune, and the late Mr. Francis, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Armstrong, 1084 Lockley Road.

The petite, dark-haired bride chose a slim fitting gown of white lace over taffeta with matching short jacket. Back fullness of the street-length skirt extended gradually from the nipped-in waistline. The bride's lace-trimmed veil fell to her waist from a rhinestone coronet, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Jack Goldsmith gave the bride away.

Blue lace gowns were worn by maid of honor Miss Dorothy Comley, and junior bridesmaid Miss Daisy Francis, bride's cousin and sister. Miss Sherry Francis, cousin of the bride from Kent, Wash., as bridesmaid, was in a pink chiffon gown. The attendants wore bands of flowers, to match their gowns, in their hair and carried white nosegays with ribbons on tone.

Mr. Bupee Pailan was best man and ushering guests to the reception which followed in Holyrood House. A white, three-tiered cake, made by the groom's mother, centred the bride's table at the buffet luncheon. Dancing followed the reception.

For a honeymoon trip, motor-ing through the Okanagan, the bride wore a lemon yellow linen suit and brimmed chiffon hat en tone.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will make their home in Esquimalt. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frank Boman, bride's aunt from Pinoka, Alta.; Miss Sherry Francis, and Mr. Tom Campbell, Kent, Wash., and Miss Brenda Holt, Edmonton.

'Real Cradle' Rocking Maritimes

HALIFAX, N.S. (UPI) — A stormy debate over the real Cradle of Confederation was rocking through the Maritimes Thursday riddled with tongue-in-cheek scorn.

Prince Edward Islanders, who reserve the cradle title for their own Charlottetown, grew hostile with Mayor Charles A. Vaughan who claims that this old port city deserves the title.

Mayor Vaughan told a news conference Wednesday that the Confederation fathers "got down to the real business" in Halifax while the Charlottetown meeting was called to discuss Atlantic unity.

POOR TIMING

Charlottetown Mayor A. Walther Gaudet, whose city is just four days away from celebrating the 1864 conference there as the session in which the foundation of Canadian nationhood was laid, said "this is no time to start rocking the poor old Confederation cradle."

"However, I think the old cradle is fairly large and if others insist on jumping in with Charlottetown, there will be room for Mayor Vaughan—possibly under the bed."

Canada's Public Housing Stand Criticized in Two-Year Study

OTTAWA (CP) — A report sharply critical of Canada's attitude towards subsidized public housing was presented to the federal government Thursday.

Based on a two-year study by the Ontario Association of Housing Authorities, the 100,000-word report describes the public housing program as inadequate and late, "bearing absolutely no relationship to any realistic appraisal of the need in Canada."

It blames government inaction and public apathy for the fact that 750,000 families in Canada are forced either to live in dilapidated and overcrowded houses or pay an excessive portion of their income to escape bad housing.

It also estimated that "about 570,000 younger families and 180,000 elderly families in the low-income group were living in substandard conditions of dilapidation, doubling-up, overcrowding, or were paying excessive portions of their incomes to escape bad housing."

In order to achieve good housing for all Canadians by a 1980 target, 4,000,000 new or rehabilitated dwellings were needed, including about 1,000,000 subsidized for low-income and ill-housed families.

The special housing study was financed by a $75,000 grant from the federal government and the Province of Ontario. It found that about 87 per cent of Canadian dwellings are of reasonable quality.

Another 170,000 elderly households and individuals were similarly troubled.

Quebec Hospitals End Strike Threat

MONTREAL (CP)—A mass strike of non-professional workers in 38 Quebec hospitals was called off Thursday after it had offered a 10-per-cent increase spread to only three hospitals.

A spokesman for the National Syndicate of Hospital Employees, representing the 15,000 workers affected by the action, announced the union had accepted a last-minute settlement proposal by the Quebec government.

The settlement calls for a $9 weekly pay increase spread over two years. The union, an affil-

Death by Conscience

BRISTOL, England (Reuters)—Bristol Police Chief George Twist said Thursday he was making personal inquiries into an unsolved murder of two children here seven years ago following a psychiatrist's speech in London Wednesday.

British Psychiatrist A. Wyatt Williams told the International Congress of Psychotherapy that a man in prison for another crime had "died of conscience" in prison after confessing to the killing of two children.

Williams, a consultant psychiatrist to a government bureau which deals with convicts, did not identify the man or the case he was referring to.

But Twist said he believed there might be a connection with the "babes in the wood" murder at Bristol in 1957 when June Sheasby, 7, and her brother Royston, 5, were found buried in a shallow grave after an 11-day search for them.

Williams said that he could not elaborate on his speech because he felt he was in the position of a priest who conscience and I cannot divulge the name of the person concerned. "I have had a night with my earned," he said.

ITU Defies Order, Won't Pass Pickets

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Printers and mailers of the strike-bound Youngstown Vindicator defied a back-to-work order from their international president Wednesday and refused to cross picket lines set up by the American Newspaper Guild.

For the eighth straight day, supervisory personnel of the Vindicator, the city's only daily and Sunday newspaper, published an edition for over-the-counter sales. An estimated 3,000 to 5,000 papers have been run off daily.

Many of the non-union personnel have stayed inside the plant since it was struck Aug. 18 by the guild in a dispute over an initial contract for 42 circular-tion men who were organized in May. Others have been crossing the picket lines without trouble.

Probe Asked As Doctors Quit Town

Dr. Lynn Gunn of Vancouver, head of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons, last night was unable to throw any light on the mystery which surrounds the departure of three doctors from Smithers, B.C.

Three doctors left the northern community recently without disclosing their reasons and the local chamber of commerce demanded an investigation.

Dr. Gunn said he had no idea why the doctors left, but pointed out the college has a large change-of-address list every month.

MANY LEAVE

"Doctors leave districts because they don't like it there or because they want to educate their children or because better opportunities arise," he said.

"We have no idea why these doctors left and we are in the dark on why an investigation has been demanded."

In Victoria, Dr. J. A. Taylor, deputy health minister, thought inquiries by the College of Physicians "would be more in keeping with an investigation than anything the government could do."

The placement of doctors was an individual decision. "But if something is causing doctors to leave, I think it warrants looking into by the college."

DUMMY FOUND

Wednesday, a dummy apparently symbolizing a doctor was found hanging outside the newspaper office in Smithers. A note printed on the dummy read:

"Why is it necessary that one of the greater communities in the north should be jeopardized in this way? What are we going to do, and when?"

Beatle Fans End Escapade

KELSO, Wash. (AP) — Three 15-year-old Kelso girls, missing since a Saturday night performance of the Beatles in Vancouver, were found Tuesday in the B.C. city.

Sheriff Merle Bevins said Janice Bremner, Karen Wal-lin and Gayle Dahlquist were being held by Vancouver police and would be turned over to their parents.

Bevins had no word on where the girls were found or what they had been doing during their three-day escapade.

Cyanide Found

National Forest Fire Toll Climbs Above '63 Loss

An estimated 1,586,000 acres of Canadian forests had been destroyed by forest fires to the end of July, the department of forestry announced in Ottawa Thursday.

This destruction caused by 5,526 fires greatly exceeded the 368,000 acres of forest land which had been damaged by 5,197 fires by the end of July 1963.

In British Columbia, however, forest fire losses are well below those of 1963.

School Opening Postponed

REGINA (CP)—Opening of public school classes here has been postponed until Sept. 8 because of a contract dispute with teachers, school superintendent W. D. Howe said Thursday. Schools were scheduled to open Sept. 1. Mr. Howe said the schools will open at the new date regardless of whether teachers strike to back up their salary demands. Public school teachers in Regina, Saskatoon and Prince Albert threaten to stay away from classes until their wages are brought in line with wages paid to secondary school teachers with similar qualifications. In Saskatoon, public school board chairman Gordon Morrison said teachers have been offered a two-year agreement providing increases from $100 to $1,100.

15-Year Future Charted

City's Advisory Plan Due in Two Months

By A. H. MURPHY

A report which will strongly influence Victoria's future for the next 15 years will be submitted to city council in the next two months or less.

Traffic patterns and business prospects will all be tied in with the use of land in the city and these, in turn, will be considered as part of the general development of the region. The report has been a year in the making. Director of the Capital Region Planning Board, A. H. Roberts, has directed the studies necessary for the Overall Advisory Plan, for Victoria, which was undertaken in conjunction with a regional transportation study.

Figures Go to Computer

"We had to send our traffic figures to Toronto where they were processed by a digital computer," said Mr. Roberts Thursday. "We have received the results back so it is now possible to correlate the traffic study with the over-all city plan and put the report into its final stages."

It will be possible, he said, to give the city an opinion on the effect of transportation proposals on population growth.

Relation of traffic patterns with city growth will enable planners to predict traffic volumes on major street networks up to 1981.

This knowledge, in turn, said Mr. Roberts, would put the city in a position to say, for example:

"This street should be made a freeway, or this should be a one-way street, or this street should be widened and improved."

An intensive study of figures for the years from 1951 to 1961 has been made and this, combined with field work done over the past year, and a reasonably accurate prediction for the future, mean that the report could be extremely important to business, Mr. Roberts said.

Business Done by Stores

"We will be able to give figures in dollars of the amount of business done by stores in relation to the type of goods they sell and their location," said Mr. Roberts.

"We should be able to pinpoint trends for business in the downtown area and give some relation, firstly to the metropolitan area as a whole, and secondly to the region."

Any future moves by city businessmen should be related to the patterns of the past and the prediction for the future, the CRPD director said.

The study of land use, business trends and traffic patterns would be a help to the city in its long-range zoning plans as well as short-term street and traffic alterations.

All the data would be used, of course, to update the regional plan. The "big picture" had to be kept constantly in mind by the planning board and the developments in any one area integrated into the overall scheme.

Strike Against Union

Labor Officials Quit in Dispute

WINNIPEG (CP)—Two union officials have resigned from the executive of the Winnipeg Building Trades Council in the aftermath of a strike by one union against another.

Council president Robert Anderson, business agent of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (CLC) and council secretary Russell Robins quit Wednesday after their resignations were demanded at a council meeting.

Delegates at the meeting asked for their removal because of their actions in a recent strike by the carpenters' union's only secretary.

CROSSED LINE

The strike has since been settled, but for several days members of the Office Employees' Union, also affiliated with the CLC, picketed the Winnipeg Labor Temple.

Carpenters' union officials crossed the picket line.

Spanish Fishermen Haul in Grenades

AYAMONTE, Spain (UPI)—Crewmen of a fishing boat sailing off the southern Spanish coast said Thursday they found three boxes containing 90 hand grenades in their nets.

Police who took charge of the grenades said they had apparently been under water since the Spanish Civil War 25 years ago.

Opposition Resolutions Die As Brief Session Closes

WINNIPEG (CP)—The third session of the 27th Manitoba Legislature prorogued at 9 p.m. Thursday.

The end of the session came immediately following third and final reading of the government's tax bill, proposed in order to raise an additional $20,750,000 annually to pay for increased aid to municipalities and a school tax rebate to property owners.

In raising the additional revenue, the government will reach into the pockets of smokers, drinkers, motorists, electricity and telephone users.

The bill, which was fought through all stages of the Legislature and passed third and final reading by a vote of 22 to 18, was proposed in an effort to achieve a transfer of the tax burden on real property owners. These will receive a 50-per-cent rebate up to $100 of taxes, with a maximum $50 payment on each tax bill for one year.

The bill also provides that the provincial surtax on federal rates on individual income taxes will be reduced to five per cent from six per cent.

Chief Justice C. C. Miller, substituting for Lieutenant-Governor Erick F. Willis, gave royal assent to 14 bills and immediately advised the House their duties had been fulfilled.

The abrupt adjournment, made an hour after the sitting started, caught opposition members by surprise.

It left four opposition resolutions unresolved and they automatically die.

A government bill affecting the status of Mattland Steinkopf, who resigned from his seat and cabinet posts Aug. 21, also died on the order paper. The bill was aimed at ab-solving Mr. Steinkopf from a possible contravention of the Legislative Assembly Act by acting as a Crown agent in the purchase of land after his election in 1962.

Open Season on Sandhills But Watch Those Whoopers

OTTAWA (UPI)—The federal government is taking special measures this year to ensure hunters don't bag by mistake the world's rarest bird—the gangling whooping crane.

Caught in the middle of a need to cut down on the population of the farm-burning sandhill cranes in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the even more desperate problem of protecting the whoopers the government has come up with a unique compromise.

The solution was announced today with the release of the migratory bird hunting regulations, bag limits and season dates across the country for the new fall hunting season.

The solution is that hunters in the two provinces will be allowed for the first time to take shots at sandhills—birds that bear a dangerous resemblance to the whoopers.

However, if just one whooper is sighted in any area where hunters are aiming their rifles at sandhills, the season will be cut off "immediately."

Officials here explained that it's just too easy to confuse the two birds. There are too many sandhills and the government wants some of them shot, but they won't risk the life of one whooping crane.

There are less than 40 known whoopers alive in the world.

Commons Holds Its Sides

Letter-Writing Boobs Draw Roars of Laughter

OTTAWA (UPI)—The Commons roared with laughter Thursday as the country's top political leaders parried each other with letter-writing booby traps made by a present-day cabinet minister and a former one.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker started it off by rising to ask if Prime Minister Pearson had authorized a member of his cabinet to solicit orders for car-bumper stickers depicting the proposed new maple leaf flag.

MPs roared as Mr. Diefenbaker quoted from the letter written by Minister Without Portfolio Yvon Dupuis to Liberal members.

The members, advised Mr. Dupuis, can obtain the car stickers for $35 per thousand, and he recommended that they distribute them to garage managers in their areas and they in turn could get them onto the cars of clients.

The results said Dupuis, would be much better "and less political" than if members undertook the publicity push themselves.

Mr. Pearson said he had no knowledge of the letter, but Mr. Dupuis rose and admitted he had sent it out, but denied having spent any public funds on its distribution.

"The letter is confidential," said Mr. Dupuis. "How did he (Diefenbaker) get a copy of it?" However he didn't deny writing it and said he was getting results, in fact "a good deal of success."

Mr. Diefenbaker, protector of the past in the flag debate, jumped to his feet and asked Mr. Pearson if he felt it proper for a member of the cabinet to sell bumper stickers.

Mr. Pearson, beaming, replied that it was just as proper as it had been for a former member of the Conservative cabinet to solicit funds from a Liberal minister.

The House roared at mention of the letter from Senator M. Wallace McCutcheon, now Ontario chairman of the Conservative's fund-raising, that somehow got sent to Liberal Revenue Minister E. J. Benson.

The letter, addressed to Mr. Benson personally at his former Kingston, Ont., office asked him to chip in $100 to the Conservative cause. "Political parties cannot survive on faith alone," wrote Sen. McCutcheon.

Mr. Benson has said in effect that he has neither faith nor funds invested in the Conservatives.

But Mr. Diefenbaker wasn't taken aback by the mention of the McCutcheon letter. He beamed at Mr. Pearson, pointed to the Liberal side of the Commons and said when you need money there is "no more appropriate place" to go "than right over there."

Mr. Pearson offered to table the McCutcheon letter and Mr. Diefenbaker asked all Liberals to table their copies of the Dupuis letter.

The exchange ended shortly after exasperated Speaker Alan Menzies said he was "having difficulty in hearing" above the roar.

Cleo's Dying Wallop Lashes Cape Kennedy

Haiti Port Razed As Storm Kills 80

LES CAYES, Haiti (AP)—Hurricane Cleo destroyed or damaged nearly every building in this port city of 20,000, killed 80 persons and left the population helpless, bewildered and with little food.

The government reported Thursday that 44 other persons were known to have died in the surrounding countryside, bringing to 124 the official death toll on Haiti from the devastating storm that struck Monday.

As for the injured, apparently no one attempted an official count.

"There are many, many, perhaps hundreds," said Mr. Andrew Berrand, head of the Les Cayes Hospital, the only one in this region of southwestern Haiti.

The hurricane ripped away part of the hospital roof. Even so the hospital was filled with the injured, many lying on narrow beds without sheets.

Seventy dead were taken from the city's market place. They were crushed to death when the iron beam roof structure collapsed.

Greeks to Use Force When Turks Move In

NICOSIA (AP)—The Greek Cypriot government will forcibly resist the replacement of Turkish troops based on Cyprus scheduled for Monday, an official source said Thursday. A Turkish spokesman replied that force would be met with force. The source said that the Turkish contingent based on the island by treaty would be permitted to depart if they wished but the replacement of the contingent scheduled to land at Famagusta would be turned back, by force if necessary. Rotation of half the 605-man Turkish contingent takes place every six months. A Turkish Embassy spokesman said that the Turkish replacement troops will land as scheduled and will reply with force if the rotation is resisted.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 74 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

While many confident Miami-lans enjoyed "hurricane parties" in strongly-built homes

Liberal Offer on Flag Debate

'Legislation by Exhaustion'

OTTAWA (CP)—The government offered Thursday night to forgo one day of flag debate each week and prevent legislation to the Commons on Mondays.

But Justice Minister Favreau attached two big "ifs" to his suggestion.

One was that the Conservatives agree to end the flag debate by the end of September.

The other was that the Commons sit until midnight Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to make up the seven hours lost on the flag debate.

Walter Dinsdale, former Conservative resources minister, said shortly after that Mr. Favreau's plan amounted to "legislation by exhaustion."

He said the justice minister used the same tactic in vain last spring when he "forced" Parliament to sit through Easter.

Mr. Favreau was responding to the suggestion made earlier in the day—the 18th of the flag debate — by Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre).

Mr. Favreau said the government feels the flag debate must be disposed of. But it was not prepared to give up "flag time" each week.

One "easy" way around this, he said, was to extend the sitting hours Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The Commons now sit from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesdays.

It also sits from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Monday and from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Fridays without a lunch break.

Mr. Favreau said the government would be only too happy to have legislation discussed Monday—but with the understanding the flag debate conclude by the end of September.

He said he would try to arrange a meeting of the floor leaders of the five parties to see whether his suggestion could be put into effect next week.

Macdonald, right, and Colishaw start 'tell all' trip in Ottawa

Blood Bombers Hit the Road

OTTAWA (UPI)—The blood-bomb twins left Ottawa Thursday after tossing one more missile in the direction of the government—this time in the form of a threat to "blow the lid off" the RCMP security system.

David Cowlishaw, 28-year-old self-styled defender of the "little man," and his man-in-trouble, Calvin Macdonald, old self-proclaimed spy for the RCMP, said they will travel from here to Vancouver.

They threatened Justice Minister Favreau that if he didn't clear Macdonald's name of a Communist taint by 1 p.m. they would disclose in public the innermost security secrets of the country.

No statement came from Favreau and so they headed for their first stop.

In Toronto Macdonald started his cross-Canada expose by telling how he spied

Unity Johnson's Keynote

'Keep JFK Torch Burning'

By ARCH MacKENZIE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP)—President Johnson asked the Democratic Party Thursday night for a mandate to begin building a great society and for a rededication to "keeping burning the golden torch of promise which John Kennedy set alight."

On his 56th birthday, the tall Texan, making his nomination acceptance speech as Democratic presidential candidate, said neither weakness nor recklessness have a place in today's world.

"Our promises have become our debts," he said of the party record amid frequent bursts of applause.

He predicted a United States of the future without regionalism, south or north, and warned that lawbreakers creating disorder—a reference to racial strife—will be brought to justice.

CELEBRATIONS

President Johnson spoke as birthday celebrations for him gathered speed inside and outside the huge convention hall on the boardwalk jammed with thousands of people.

"But the gladness of this high occasion cannot mask the sorrow which shares our hearts," he said of the late President Kennedy.

OVAATION

Earlier there had been a remarkable 13-minute emotional ovation meeting Robert Kennedy, the president's brother, who introduced a memorial film about the former president. (See Page 3.)

Robert Kennedy had been ruled out by the president as a vice-presidential candidate.

BARREY RAPPE

The man who did get the nomination, Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, in his acceptance speech, attacked Republican Senator Barry Goldwater as the temporary leader of the Republican Party and an inconsistent 19th century figure.

The night of oratory and applause marked a colorful finale to the four-day Democratic National Convention.

CAMPAIGN START

It also marked the start of the Democratic party campaign leading up to the Nov. 3 elections.

Time and again, Humphrey in his speech had hammered at Republican presidential nominee Goldwater by name — a man he said "has been facing backward — against the mainstream of history."

Johnson didn't name Goldwater, but by the reaction the delegates seemed to think he

'Why Don't You Have Any Ideas'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Houston Post says White House Press Secretary George Reedy has handed in his resignation. Reedy promptly issued a denial.

The report says Reedy resigned because he disagreed with President Johnson's plan to fly to the Democratic convention Wednesday night and personally present Senator Hubert Humphrey to the convention as his choice for the vice-presidential nomination.

The Post says Johnson's unprecedented early appearance at the convention was the idea of Senator Pierre Salinger of California, Reedy's predecessor as press secretary.

Reedy opposed the idea. The Post says, and the president is reported to have said to him: "Why don't you ever have any ideas like Salinger?"

Reedy: denial

Armed Mobs Battle Despite 'New Deal'

SAIGON (AP)—Armed mobs battled each other and troops fired on pro-government demonstrators here Thursday in an ironic accompaniment to official pronouncement of a new deal aimed at putting an end to national unrest.

In all eight persons were known dead and possibly 10 or more were killed in city-wide rioting that reflected old antagonisms, political and religious, between Vietnamese Buddhists and Roman Catholics. Scores were wounded.

PEACE SOUGHT

A joint communique from the Buddhist Association and the Saigon archbishopric of the Roman Catholic Church called for peace.

Obviously referring to agents of the Communist Viet Cong, it urged the people to keep calm and be alert against "the schemes of bad elements who infiltrate the ranks of religious groups to foment dissension and violence, split national solidarity and sabotage public safety and order."

Gun Blasts, Constable Badly Hurt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Const. Walter Lloyd Giesbrecht, of Kilburn, Man., was flown here Thursday from Grand Forks after being severely injured in a mishap with his service pistol.

Giesbrecht was reported in serious condition, suffering a 33-calibre bullet wound to his head.

The constable was found shot in the basement of his Grand Forks, B.C., home and driven to Penticton to be placed aboard an aircraft for Vancouver.

Suitcase

Went

South

ENUMCLAW, Wash. (AP)—Note to John H. Addison, Liberal Member of Parliament for York North:

The suitcase that dropped off your car on Vancouver Island last week—the one with the jewelry—can be picked up at the police station of this community 20 miles south of Seattle.

The story of how it got there was told Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Waser of this community.

They were driving behind the Addison car on Highway 19 between Courtenay and Miracle Beach when the suitcase dropped off.

They picked it up but couldn't halt the Addison car.

The next morning they opened the case and found some jewelry. They did not think the jewelry—including two diamond rings—looked valuable but they were "just curious enough to have them appraised."

They were told the jewelry was worth $30,000.

Lions Cut Don Vicic

VANCOUVER (CP) — Don Vicic, an eight-year veteran of play in the Western Football Conference, Thursday was released by British Columbia Lions.

The 29-year-old graduate of Ohio State became expendable as one of Lions' two-way players when he was replaced at fullback by Canadian rookie Bob Swift and at inside linebacker by Jesse Williams.

Vicic lost the starting fullback job to Swift in the second game of the season. He was returned then to a linebacker spot, which he held last season, but Lions went after greater linebacking strength this week by bringing in Williams, a six-foot three-inch, 235-pound American with experience in both the National and American Leagues.

Williams won a place after three practices with the club.

Vacuum for Stadium

VANCOUVER (CP)—A giant vacuum cleaner to suck the water from Empire Stadium is being imported from Britain by the B.C. Lions.

"The machine really works," said general manager Herb Capozzi as he gazed at the rain-soaked turf that has become patchy and slippery. "I checked it out."

Lions meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers here Sunday afternoon.

One Streak to Go

EDMONTON (CP)—Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos will both attempt to end three-game losing streaks tonight when they meet in a Western Football Conference game here.

Roughriders have been defeated twice by British Columbia Lions and once by Calgary Stampeders after two quick victories. Edmonton has lost all three of its 1964 games—two to Calgary and one to Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Despite a dismal Edmonton record, Saskatchewan coach Bob Shaw was careful Thursday not to underestimate his opposition.

"We don't like to look more than a game ahead," he said. "They (Eskimos) will be hungry."

Despite his caution, Shaw predicts his club will emerge from its slump.

"I said at the start of the season I'd be happy with three wins and three losses after playing six games in the first 24 days." Final game in that stretch is tonight's to be telecast on the CTV Western network beginning at 8:30 p.m. PST.

Archer gets hero treatment

Ex-Cowboy Cracks Record

By WILL GORDLEY

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—George Archer, a six-foot-six cowboy playing his first year on the pro tour, unscrambled a record five-under-par 65 Thursday and took a three-stroke lead in the opening round of the $200,000 World Golf Championship.

The game's greatest players were left in his wake as the grinning stringbean from Gilroy, Calif., knocked in five birdies over the final nine holes for a finishing 31 that erased the Oakland Hills course record of 67 set by Ben Hogan 13 years ago.

BAD DAY

Only four players were able to crack the 35-37 par of the rugged course on the outskirts of Detroit. It was generally a bad day for the big name stars favored to grab the $35,000 first prize.

Bruce Devlin, a skinny professional from Melbourne, Australia, was in second place with a 68, followed by Richard Sikes of Springdale, Ark., another rookie pro, and 41-year-old Jack Burke, tied at 69.

PALMER 70

Masters champion Arnold Palmer slammed out of the rough and sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the final hole to gain a tie with a cluster of nearly a dozen at even-par 70.

Other prominent in the international field of 155 from 14 countries didn't fare so well.

ALMOST COLLAPSED

British Open king Tony Lema, missing and wheezing from a bad cold, registered a 72 and finished almost in a state of collapse.

Bobby Nichols, U.S. PGA champion, shot a 72 while Jack Nicklaus, the year's leading money winner, scrambled in with a 73.

The tricky, rolling greens of the 6,807-yard Oakland Hill layout completely baffled Ken Venturi, U.S. National Open winner, who had to settle for a 74.

Hogan, 52, returning to the scene of his third of four U.S. National Open championships, nailed birdies on the final two holes for a 72 which put him even with such stars as Nichols, Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Alliss of England.

The foreign thrash—48 players from 13 countries—made a strong opening charge.

Devlin at 68, veteran

Kel Nagle of Sydney, Australia, was in the large list at 70. New Zealander Bob Charles at 72. The 73 bracket included Bruce Crampton of Australia, Kotchi

Uno of Japan, Ramon Sota of Spain, Bob Verwey of South Africa and Al Balding of Toronto. Balding fired scores of 36 and 37.

Canadian Shines on Safari

Rabbit Hunter Makes It Big

By JOE DUPUIS

MONTREAL (CP) — Take a typical hunter in Canada, accustomed only to stalking small game like rabbits and deer, and put him in front of a charging lion in east Africa. What happens?

Well, if his name is Jean Roch Beaudoin, he kills the king of the beasts with one steel-nerved shot from a 30-06 calibre rifle. Oh, yes. Make that a black-mane lion, coveted by the most daring of big-game hunters. Only 12 black manes were killed last year in all of Kenya, where Beaudoin got his. Beaudoin, 23, is a shy, mild-mannered surveyor for the city of Sherbrooke, Que. who got his once-in-a-lifetime chance to go on an African safari by winning a country-wide contest sponsored by a Canadian ammunition firm.

All it cost him was the $5 he spent on a box of shells last fall which made him eligible. The winner was chosen by draw. He had a remarkable hunt, even by big-game standards. In the three weeks he was on safari near Narok, a small village 75 miles from Nairobi, his bag included a lion, leopard, gazelle, two African buffalo, a boar, two warthogs, three zebra, snakes and several species of African antelope.

EVERY SHOT COUNTED

Besides cool nerves, he displayed a deadly aim, dispatching his quarry with the first shot in each instance. "It was hunting in big — shot style," Beaudoin said on his return recently from his big adventure.

His hunting party included Swiss guide Stan Codargreen; a photographer, 17 native trackers and gun-bearers, and John Dunn, 35, a Sherbrooke insurance broker. Dunn, who hunted jaguar last year in South America, went along on Beaudoin's ticket. The winner was slowed to take a companion, and Beaudoin said he asked Dunn, whom he had never met, to come along because "I wanted a good hunter with me."

Beaudoin's first kill was an impala, a species of antelope about the size of the average Canadian deer. Then, he downed a 2,000-pound buffalo and a 100-pound leopard which measured six feet in length.

Beaudoin got the lion three days before the expedition was to end. They were scouting an open plain in a land rover when a native seated on top of the car shouted "Simba!"

SHOWED NO FEAR

"I thought I was watching a movie but there it was, a black-mane lion with a lioness and three cubs about 500 yards away," Beaudoin recalled.

"We crept up to within 300 yards of them. The black mane was walking in circles, pawing the ground, challenging us. The female and cubs had fled, but that lion wasn't afraid of us at all."

"The lion started coming towards us. I took a sight but I was so nervous I couldn't see the tip of my rifle. The second time I took my time and fired. The bullet hit him square in the shoulder and he dropped right there."

After the kill, the natives hoisted him on their shoulders and performed a traditional dance while chanting in tribal language.

"The Great White lion killer."

What did he learn in Africa that will help him in Canada?

"For one thing, I'll be a better shot," Beaudoin said. "In Africa, you can see your quarry quite clearly, and you know he can see you too. It's a game of nerves between the animal and you. So you know that first shot has to count."

"Oh no, no," he replied quickly. "I'm real glad to be back."

Mrs. Steers attributed her success to the weather. "I grew my flowers for the local show, but the weather was so poor that I was too late for it. However, they grew just in time to be entered in the PNE," she said.

Cheer Up, Mother

School Doors Open
In 10 More Days

Mothers might find cheer in the thought their summer sentence is almost over—school starts in 10 days.

But on the other hand, Sept. 8 marks the return of more than 33,000 traditionally unhappy students to schools throughout Greater Victoria, Saanich and Sooke.

They'll be squaring off against 1,200-plus teachers who will attempt to dish out knowledge in an easily edible form.

To city merchants, the annual back-to-school trek means dollars in the till.

Mothers are spending thousands of dollars to dress and equip their offspring properly with a multitude of supplies for school.

Students will spend about two hours in school Sept. 8 to arrange timetables, renew old friendships, meet some teachers, make a list of more supplies which may be needed and then return home to rest up for the first day of classes Sept. 9.

University of Victoria students have a few more days of rest before starting classes Sept. 21. In person registration begins Sept. 15 and almost 2,500 students are expected as the institution enters its second year as degree-granting university. Attendance will be about 400 higher than last year.

Students from Japan, the West Indies, England, almost every province in Canada and most states in the U.S. will be attending the university in addition to the bulk from Vancouver Island.

The university offers two faculties, arts and science and education, and about 140 instructors will be on hand compared with 110 last term.

Greater Victoria's 12 secondary and 35 elementary schools will welcome about 26,000 students this term—an increase of about 1,000 over the past term. They'll be guided by 947 teachers—44 more than before.

Almost 150 teachers are in Victoria for the first time professionally and they'll meet with trustees and officials at a tea to be held in Sir James Douglas Elementary School Sept. 11.

Greater Victoria students who are new to the district and haven't registered for school must report to their nearest school at prescribed times.

Those in Grades 1 to 7 may register on the regular opening day of Sept. 8 but Grade 8 and 9 students must register Sept. 1, 2 or 3 and Sept. 1 for Grade 10. Students in Grades 11 or 12 must register Aug. 31, Sept. 1 or Sept. 2.

On opening day in Greater Victoria, students in Grades 1

to 7 are asked to report at 9 a.m.; at junior secondary schools, Grade 8 at 9 a.m., Grade 9 at 10 a.m. and Grade 10 at 11 a.m.; and at senior secondary schools, Grade 10 at 9 a.m., Grade 11 at 10 a.m. and Grade 12 at 11 a.m.

Sooke's three secondary and 11 elementary schools will open their doors to about 3,400 students under 133 teachers compared with 115 last term.

And in Saanich, almost 3,900 students will fill four secondary and 14 elementary schools under 138 teachers—15 more than last term.

Both Sooke and Saanich report enrollment is about 10 per cent higher than last year.

Construction of new additions and other work was carried out by all three school districts during the summer but most projects are expected to be completed by the time school starts.

However, in Sooke, a shift system will be used at Langford elementary school until the Atkins Road school is built.

Although some other schools may be slightly crowded until additions or alterations are completed, shift systems are not expected anywhere else.

Comox NDP Candidate:

Logging Road Tolls
'Effective Bar
To Development'

CAMPBELL RIVER—Putting commercial tolls on the north Island logging road network effectively bars normal development of the area, Neville Shanks, New Democratic Party Comox candidate, said Thursday.

"Some people raised a great fuss when these roads were opened a couple of months ago," Mr. Shanks said. "They thought there was going to be a huge new area opened up for development."

"CRAP-HANGER" "They called me a crap-hanger when I pointed out that this couldn't possibly happen when all the land was under the effective control of a handful of logging companies."

"The recent announcement by the companies proves this point of view to have been correct. "No other part of the province, containing so much industry and so many thousands of residents, is without public road access," Mr. Shanks declared.

"DORMANT FOREVER" "Under forest management policy, and without ordinary commercial transport, the land and the people are doomed to lie dormant forever," he said. "Awakening will come only after we have taken back control of our land and put in our own roads."

'Stampede'

Playground
Wind-Up
At Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Hundreds of Nanaimo children who have joined in playground activities this summer, wound up the season Thursday night with a "tremendous stampede" in the Civic Arena.

Children displayed the arts and crafts they had worked on during the summer, put on skits and dancing shows, roared and rolled to a band called The Stampede.

Crests and trophies were given to the youngsters who had taken part in the sports program. The children were supervised by eight play-leaders at Comox Road, Haliburton, Hospital and Mansfield Parks.

Klondike Night
Planned

CUMBERLAND—A Klondike Night, featuring Barney Potts, Vancouver comedian, is planned for Oct. 10 by the Cumberland Recreational Institute.

The evening will include supper, dancing and a 45-minute floor show by the Potts' troupe including dances by Can-Can girls.

The institute is also planning a bingo with $1,000 in prizes, Sept. 1.

Winter activities are also organized with table tennis starting Sept. 1, and soccer organized and ready to start now.

This year children and adults must have paid their full annual dues before they can participate in activities.

DUNCAN—Plans for the new $3,500,000 Cowichan District Hospital will be complete by the end of this month, trustees of the King's Daughters' Hospital have learned.

The plans include blueprints by electrical, mechanical, plumbing and other consultants. KDH administrator Ken Noton said following study and approval of the plans by the provincial government, hospital officials here will be able to call for tenders.

GREEN LIGHT The bidders in turn will be allowed to study the specifications for a reasonable length of time. Following the acceptance of a bid and governmental approval, the green light for construction will be given.

Meanwhile another group, the Active Anniens of the Cowichan Homemakers at Westholme, has come forward and will sponsor the admitting and examining room at the new hospital's children's ward.

SPONSORS NEEDED

Mr. Noton said more sponsors for other rooms are needed. The KDA administrator stated an independent insurance brokerage firm carefully examined the plans of the new hospital and together with the Canadian Underwriters' Association expressed great satisfaction about its construction in relation to safety devices.

Most modern safety features will include fire doors, an automatic alarm system, a special type of stairwells and fire walls.

BIGGER GRANTS

In a brief to the provincial minister of health the hospital board here will again emphasize the need for bigger construction grants for chronic care facilities (public nursing homes).

Presently the government contributes only one-third for chronic care hospital construction cost, but pays half of the cost for acute bed accommodations.

SHOULD BE COVERED

Trustees here feel very strongly that, only very few elderly and sick citizens can afford private chronic hospital care and all these patients should be covered by B.C. Hospital Insurance.

Mr. Noton said, "that does not include boarding homes or domiciliary cases." In the brief hospital officials and trustees also will stress the importance of locating chronic care facilities adjacent to acute hospitals.

Patients at the former would benefit from better medical supervision and treatment by skilled technicians and it would by far, be more economical because many facilities could be shared.

JENSEN APPOINTED

The board appointed Dr. S. E. Jensen, the public health department psychiatrist from Nanaimo to the consulting medical staff. Dr. Jensen will be available to discuss certain cases with members of the KDH active medical staff.

Mrs. Elaine Dobbyn, chairman of the trustees division of the B.C. Hospital Association and vice chairman of the hospital board here, told trustees following her recent address at the Fraser Valley Hospital regional council it was felt more inter-regional visits would contribute to better understanding of various problems.

Nanaimo

Another $10,000
Needed for Pool

NANAIMO—Another $10,000 and the Kinmen Pool at Bowen Park will be on the way to completion next June.

So far almost $25,000 has been spent to build the pool, rough-in the plumbing, complete the preliminary electric work and install the water and sewer lines.

All that remains is installation of washroom facilities, filtration, heating and chlorination systems and finishing touches on the buildings.

The provincial and federal governments paid $10,000 towards work that has been completed under the winter works program. Other work was financed by the Kinmen and the city of Nanaimo.

Kinmen raised $4,000 last spring though they were aiming for donations totalling $10,000.

"That is the reason we couldn't open the pool this year," said Jack Doddridge, chairman of the Kin pool committee.

The first fund-raising event this fall will be the Kinmen's annual radio auction in November.

Island Tourney
Charms Player

DUNCAN—Veteran tennis player Ray Wiese from St. Louis, Missouri, who recently and for the first time participated in the 77th annual Vancouver Island championships, was charmed by several features of the South Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club.

In a letter to club president Jeff Hunter, Mr. Wiese writes, "Your tournament probably has more color and joie de vivre than any other going."

Mr. Wiese decided to come back next year to enjoy again the delicious lunches and teas; the camaraderie; the cheerfulness, alertness and courtesy of the children; the "unique plumbing"; the 1888 club picture; the friendly maple trees on court No. 4, and above all, the "graciousness and hospitality that pervades the club."

Courtenay Meeting

School Board Advised
Press Ban Needless

COURTENAY—Newspapermen here have never violated the board's confidence and there is no need for a press ban, members of the local press told school board representatives Thursday.

Newsman met board chairman J. F. Simon and C. N. Peterson, secretary-treasurer, to discuss a resolution which curbed press coverage of board meetings.

NO PROMISES

Mr. Simon made no promises but agreed that he would inform the board of the feelings of the press representatives.

The resolution prevents publication of the contents of correspondence without permission of the board.

Newspapermen said they were extremely upset and that their personal feelings were hurt by the board's lack of confidence.

INTO COMMITTEE

"The board only needs to go into committee if it wants anything kept confidential," they said.

Attending the meeting were Colonist correspondent Mrs. Ruth McKellar; Derek Rhoad, editor of the Comox District Free Press, and Gordon Horne, bureau manager of the Nanaimo Free Press.

Cowichan Bay Yields

Haiti Port Razed As Storm Kills 80

LES CAYES, Haiti (AP)—Hurricane Cleo destroyed or damaged nearly every building in this port city of 20,000, killed 80 persons and left the population helpless, bewildered and with little food.

The government reported Thursday that 44 other persons were known to have died in the surrounding countryside, bringing to 124 the official death toll on Haiti from the devastating storm that struck Monday.

As for the injured, apparently no one attempted an official count.

"There are many, many, perhaps hundreds," said Mr. Andrew Berraud, head of the Les Cayes Hospital, the only one in this region of southwestern Haiti.

The hurricane ripped away part of the hospital roof. Even so the hospital was filled with the injured, many sharing narrow beds without sheets.

Seventy dead were taken from the city's market place. They were crushed to death when the iron beam roof structure collapsed.

Greeks to Use Force When Turks Move In

NICOSIA (AP)—The Greek Cypriot government will forcibly resist the replacement of Turkish troops based on Cyprus scheduled for Monday, an official source said Thursday. A Turkish spokesman replied that force would be met with force.

The source said that the Turkish contingent based on the island by treaty would be permitted to depart if they wished.

but the replacement of the contingent scheduled to land at Famagusta would be turned back, by force if necessary.

Rotation of half the 655-man Turkish contingent takes place every six months. A Turkish Embassy spokesman said that the Turkish replacement troops will land as scheduled and will reply with force if the rotation is resisted.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI-CP)—Hurricane Cleo cut a 140-mile long path of destruction up the Gold Coast of Florida Thursday night and struck the nation's space centre with its remaining fury.

The vicious storm, which has injured at least 130 persons and caused about $50,000,000 in damage in Florida already, had weakened before it reached this missile complex.

Despite the storm's hefty punch, there were no deaths.

BATTLE ZONE

While smashed windows, ripped awnings, fallen trees and power lines left Miami's streets looking like a battle zone, a strong building code adopted years ago in southeast Florida protected her citizens. (See picture, Page 3.)

Lulled into a careless sense of security by a 14-year period in which Miami felt the wrath of only a single hurricane, many shop owners did not heed the warnings to board up.

GLASS SMASHED

After the hurricane, many of these found plate glass windows smashed and interiors wrecked. There was little, if any, structural damage to buildings.

Not a single death had been reported in Florida after Cleo, which killed at least 130 persons in Guadeloupe and Haiti, had smashed across Miami and 100 miles northward up the coast through Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, West Palm Beach and Stuart.

While many confident Miami-lans enjoyed "hurricane parties" in strongly-built homes

Blood Bombers Hit the Road

OTTAWA (UPI)—The blood-bomb twins left Ottawa Thursday after toasting one more missile in the direction of the government—this time in the form of a threat to "blow the lid off" the RCMP security system.

David Cowlshaw, 28-year-old self-styled defender of the "little man," and his man-in-trouble, Calvin Macdonald, old self-proclaimed spy for the RCMP, said they will travel from here to Vancouver.

They threatened Justice Minister Favreau that if he didn't clear Macdonald's name of a Communist taint by 3 p.m. they would disclose in public the innermost security secrets of the country.

No statement came from Favreau and so they headed for their first stop.

In Toronto Macdonald started his cross-Canada expose by telling how he spied

'Why Don't You Have Any Ideas'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Houston Post says White House Press Secretary George Reedy has handed in his resignation. Reedy promptly issued a denial.

The report says Reedy resigned because he disagreed with President Johnson's plan to fly to the Democratic convention Wednesday night and personally present Senator Hubert Humphrey to the convention as his choice for the vice-presidential nomination.

The Post says Johnson's unprecedented early appearance at the convention was the idea of Senator Pierre Salinger of California, Reedy's predecessor as press secretary.

Reedy opposed the idea. The Post says, and the president is reported to have said to him: "Why don't you ever have any ideas like Salinger?"

Armed Mobs Battle Despite 'New Deal'

SAIGON (AP)—Armed mobs battled each other and troops fired on pro-government demonstrators here Thursday in an ironic accompaniment to official promulgation of a new deal aimed at putting an end to national unrest.

In all eight persons were known dead and possibly 10 or more were killed in city-wide rioting that reflected old animosities, political and religious, between Vietnamese Buddhists and Roman Catholics. Scores were wounded.

PEACE BOUGHT

A joint communique from the Buddhist Association and the Saigon archbishopric of the Roman Catholic Church called for peace.

Obviously referring to agents of the Communist Viet Cong, it urged the people to keep calm and be alert against "the schemes of bad elements who infiltrate the ranks of religious groups to incite dissension and violence, split national solidarity and sabotage public safety and order."

LONDON (Reuters)—Two top Russian military experts said Thursday the Soviet Union has successfully solved the problem of destroying attacking enemy ballistic missiles. The Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Deputy Defence Minister Marshal Vasily Sokolovskiy and Maj.-Gen. Cherednichenko also said there were "serious flaws" in Polaris submarine missiles and they could be "successfully" countered.

The men were writing in Red Star, the Soviet armed forces magazine.

Liberal Offer on Flag Debate

'Legislation by Exhaustion'

OTTAWA (CP)—The government offered Thursday night to forgo one day of flag debate each week and present legislation to the Commons on Monday.

But Justice Minister Favreau attached two big "ifs" to his suggestion.

One was that the Conservatives agree to end the flag debate by the end of September.

The other was that the Commons sit until midnight Tuesday, Wednesdays and Thursdays to make up the seven hours lost on the flag debate.

Walter Dinsdale, former Conservative resource minister, said shortly after that Mr. Favreau's plan amounted to "legislation by exhaustion."

He said the justice minister used the same tactic in vain last spring when he "forced" Parliament to sit through Easter.

Mr. Favreau was responding to the suggestion made earlier in the day—the 18th of the flag debate — by Stanley Knowles (NDP—Winnipeg North Centre).

Mr. Favreau said the government feels the flag debate must be disposed of. But it was not prepared to give up "flag time" each week.

One "easy" way around this, he said, was to extend the sitting hours Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The Commons now sits from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and from 2 to 6 p.m. Wednesdays.

It also sits from 2 to 6 p.m. and 8 to 10:30 p.m. Monday and from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Fridays without a lunch break.

Mr. Favreau said the government would be only too happy to have legislation discussed Monday—but with the understanding the flag debate conclude by the end of September.

He said he would try to arrange a meeting of the five leaders of the five parties to see whether his suggestion could be put into effect next week.

August Felando of San Pedro was examining a piece of china at Scotty's House, 901 Government, when he knocked over a shelf of Irish bellows.

The bill—$198.60, paid in traveller's cheques.
